KAISERISTS PICK HINDENBURG

SENATE HERRIOT; KEEPS JOB

net Decides to Ignore Defeat.

BULLETIN.
[Chicago Tribune Foreign Service.]
Paris, April 9 (3 a. m.).—Premier Herriot, defeated by a narrow margin in the senate yesterday, after several hours of debate, decided to ignore the result and to continue his government.

Herriot's government, which has been in office since the fall of 1924, is the first of the republicans to have been defeated in the senate. The result was a surprise to many observers, who had expected a more decisive victory for the opposition.

The senate's decision to ignore the result is a significant move, as it allows Herriot to continue his government without the need for a new election. This move is seen as a sign of the republicans' determination to maintain their position in the government.

WAR LEADER PUT IN GERMAN RACE FOR PRESIDENT

Ex-Ruler Persuades Him to Accept.

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ.
[Chicago Tribune Foreign Service.]
[Copyright: 1925: By The Chicago Tribune.]

BERLIN, April 8.—Former Kaiser William's "devoted servant," Field Marshal von Hindenburg, was today nominated as the presidential candidate of the German nationalists in the election April 20.

The nationalists overcame the misgivings of the German People's party, which under pressure from Foreign Minister Gustav Stresemann, the leader, wavered for some time, and persuaded the Bavarian People's party, the economic party and representatives of the peasant organizations to support the chief representative of Germany's old army.

The victory of the nationalists was won only after a long struggle because Gen. von Hindenburg twice refused to accept the nomination, while at the same time the German People's party threatened to break away from the coalition of the national parties if he was nominated.

Stresemann agrees to nomination. As he has often done before in his career, Dr. Stresemann again changed his stand as proven by a communique from the headquarters of his party.

"Despite our apprehensions of international and national difficulties which may result from the nomination of Gen. von Hindenburg, we will stand with him in the fight for his election for the sake of the bourgeois parties. We will keep up the discipline of the party."

The last words of the communique show that even military phraseology is returning to the fore.

Still "Servant" of Kaiser. The old field marshal, who twice asked the nationalists to allow him to withdraw because of his age, will carry on a constant correspondence with the former kaiser. He signs his letters to the kaiser "your devoted servant," and to the republicans he signs "your devoted servant."

The field marshal declared "it would be a great sacrifice on my part if I were to take up the inheritance of Ebert." However, his sudden acceptance of this "hard duty" is interpreted in many quarters as a change inspired by the former kaiser himself.

Gen. von Hindenburg's friends, Baron Altmann, Baron Kuogelgen, Count Wedel, and others, in interview yesterday did not hesitate to declare that they, as well as the field marshal, believed that the idea of a monarchy was slumbering in Germany and that the entire nation is awaiting the day when a monarch will preside over its destinies.

Look to Crown Prince's Son. "For us all," they said, "the son of the crown prince is the legal heir to the throne. The kaiser and crown prince officially resigned the throne, but when the young prince reaches his majority he will be the legal heir to the throne."

Prince William, the crown prince's son, will be 21 in 1927. The nationalists thus frankly set the date when they expect the restoration.

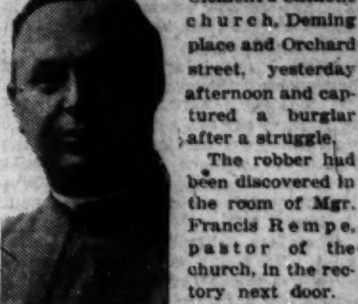

Gen. von Hindenburg sincerely wanted Dr. Karl Jaros to run for the presidency. He endorsed him in the last election with the consent of the crown prince. The nationalists, in force Gen. von Hindenburg's hand made Dr. Jaros withdraw from the campaign.

The offer of the nomination by the Hanover party, the Bavarian People's party and the economic party also pressed the old man, who is not versed in party politics and who believes that an overwhelming majority of the German people are clamoring for him.

The Hindenburg nationalists bloc was backed in the last elections by a little over 12,000,000 votes, while almost 14,000,000 stood behind the republican coalition, which has nominated Wilhelm Marx, former chancellor, leader of the Catholic (Centrist) party.

Priest Seizes Thief After Church Chase

The Rev. Fr. Peter Engeln, single handed and unarmed, raced down the aisle of St. Clement's Catholic church, Deming place and Orchard street, yesterday afternoon and captured a burglar after a struggle.

The burglar had been discovered in the room of Mgr. Francis Rempe, pastor of the church, in the rectory next door.

Father Engeln was in the study in the rectory, when he was startled by a noise. He rushed into the study and found a burglar in the room of Mgr. Francis Rempe, pastor of the church, in the rectory next door.

The burglar heard the priest's approach and dashed out of the room and down the stairs. Father Engeln set out in pursuit. Burglar and priest raced out of the rectory and through a passageway to the church.

A Lenten service had just been dismissed and there were only a few persons in the auditorium.

Started Worshippers Look On. Startled, they watched Father Engeln race after the burglar down the main aisle. They were nearly to the altar when the priest caught up with the fugitive and grappled with him.

The robber fought valiantly to escape, but finally Father Engeln was able to overpower him. Meantime the maid had phoned for the Shakespeare station police. When they arrived they found the robber subdued.

At the station he gave his name as Fred Yunke, 1890 North Wells street. He was held on a charge of attempted burglary.

Rob Home in Evanston. A burglary in the home of Burton Hanson, 1101 Ridge avenue, Evanston, was foiled last night by the opportune return home of a maid, Margaret Collier. The thief, who had pilfered silverware and other valuables on the parlor floor, dashed out the front door when he heard the maid enter at the rear. Hanson, a wealthy Chicago lawyer, and his wife, were absent.

2 EX-CONVICTS ARE HUNTED FOR $37,500 FRAUD

A warrant charging Wallace G. Poland with operating a confidence game and defrauding the Boulevard Bridge bank of $37,500 was sworn out last night by J. D. F. Richards, cashier, Carson City, Nev., police were asked to search for Poland in that city, where it is said he fled, leaving his bride of a month in the Belmont hotel.

Search is also being instituted for Donald A. Brooks, alias Bibb, ex-convict at St. Quentin prison, San Francisco, who is alleged to have secured Mrs. W. H. Evers, 1743 Sheridan road, of $16,000 and an automobile. He was a convict with Poland, and after their terms were served they came to this city and started in business together.

DEVER INVITES NEW CAR PLAN FROM VICTORS

Proposal of Insull, Blair Never Tried.

BY OSCAR HEWITT.
(Write on back page.)

"The way is now open for a proper solution of the transportation problem—one that will receive popular approval," said the opponents of the Dever ordinance yesterday.

"What is the proper solution? Come on with your plan," replied the mayor. Of course, no answer was received yesterday. When it will be uncertain.

The bankers have said that they do not care for a twenty years franchise; because they claim adequate transportation facilities cannot be financed on so short a period. No legal authority now exists to grant a longer term franchise. The Harrison plan for a comprehensive subway system was defeated in 1913 or 1914. The trustees plan was beaten in 1913. The Thompson district plan was subsequently killed in the state legislature. The Dever plan went to defeat Tuesday by a majority of 101,474 votes.

Terminable Franchise Untried. One plan hasn't been tried—a terminable franchise. That is the authority which both Samuel Insull of the elevated and Henry A. Blair of the surface lines have asked for. Each has made that proposal to the council local transportation committees.

According to the city lawyers that, too, requires additional legislation. Evidently Mayor Dever and his advisers do not take it because to become effective, authorization must be obtained before the present board by a majority vote. Mayor Dever left last night with Mrs. Dever for a visit at Roseland Springs, Mo. They plan to be gone a week or ten days. Corporation Counsel Bush plans to leave tonight for the same spot. The next regular meeting of the city council is scheduled for April 21.

The possibility that Mayor Dever and his corporation counsel may make at least a start toward a new traction proposal during their vacation has been suggested. Another development which may result is a new program in the reorganization of the local transportation committee of the city council following the seating of the newly elected aldermen. Ald. U. S. Schwarz, the present chairman and one of the leading supporters of the Dever proposal, is retiring from the council. Two other places on the committee will have to be filled.

District Could Raise Money. The traction district plan is the only public ownership proposal which takes into account the financial condition of the city. This plan was originated by Ald. G. J. Williams and later dropped by him in favor of the Dever scheme.

The district plan is for the formation of a district, similar to the sanitary district and including the whole territory covered by the city's local transportation system. The district would have independent powers of levying taxes and issuing bonds. By this means it would be in a position to buy or build transportation lines. Persons in close touch with the traction problem expect that the district plan will be revived, perhaps in a modified form, and actively pressed before the people.

Schwartz Told of Fear. "When the Surface Lines franchise expires in 1927 there may be a reversion of the franchise," Ald. Schwarz remarked yesterday. "The operating agreement, which has bound the companies into one system with the franchise. When the franchise expires, the companies will be free to operate independently and charge as they see fit. It is doubtful whether the Illinois commerce commission can enforce one fare for separate companies. The commission has not compelled the Surface Lines and the 'L' to operate on a one-fare basis."

Former Mayor Carter H. Harrison, who joined with former Mayors Dunne and Thompson in opposing the Dever plan, asserted, however, that the Surface Lines will continue to run. He urged that other traction plans be speedily submitted for consideration.

The extent and character of activity on transportation yesterday was a post mortem on the defeat of the Dever ordinance. The old Thompson crowd, headed by Chester H. Cleveland, congratulated the people on the defeat of the Dever plan. Ex-Mayor Dunne issued another congratulatory message to the public. Ald. Nelson and Ald. Albert added their congratulations to the people.

Bankers Out for New Plan. Frank C. Weinman, chairman of the bank, and Edwin A. Thompson, president of the First National bank, held a joint statement. "It is now up

NEW MAYOR WILL DEPOSE EVANSTON CHIEF OF POLICE

The first official act of Mayor Eliot Charles H. Bartlett of Evanston will be the removal of Police Chief Chas. W. Leggett. He announced yesterday.

Mayor Eliot Bartlett said he had not yet decided upon Chief Leggett's successor, but that he would make public his decision in two weeks.

Chief Leggett's five years in office under Mayor Harry P. Pearson, who was defeated Tuesday, were stormy ones. He maintained a policy of secrecy in regard to his official actions, declaring that newspaper men were not wanted in Evanston. Four years ago the city council voted on the question of retaining the chief in office, and decided, by a slight majority vote, to keep him.

The chief attained publicity during the Leighton Mount case when it was shown that he had changed records to favor a student charged with hiding.

TURK MOBILIZES
ALL TO CHECK
KURDS' REVOLT

CONSTANTINOPLE, April 8.—(By Associated Press.)—Gen. Ismet Pasha, the premier, addressing the national assembly at Ankara Tuesday, declared that because of the threatening aspect of the revolt in Kurdistan and in view of other dangers to which the country was exposed, it had been found necessary to order a complete mobilization.

The premier admitted that the revolt was much graver than newspaper reports had indicated. The insurgents have attacked places widely separated, such as Malatya, Mardin, and Mesopotamia, and a fortnight ago threatened Erbil. The premier added that he feared the revolt would assume even greater proportions.

Arab Mob Stones Hotel
Where Dailour Is Staying

DAMASCUS, Palestine, April 8.—(By the Associated Press.)—An Arab mob gathered today outside the Hotel Victoria where the Earl of Dailour is staying, and stoned the building. A dragon was hit. Police drove the crowd back to the square, and where they were dispersed. Several Arab men were wounded. Lord Dailour was much upset by the incident.

White House Resents Talk of Parsimony

Washington, D. C., April 8.—[Special.]—Stories that have cropped up recently to the effect that President Coolidge is too economical to buy a new Easter hat, that he always has his shoes resoled until they are completely gone, and refuses to spend more than $5 for a new suit, are not being received kindly at the White House.

Officials say such talk is the bunk. One man whose work brings him close to the President declared today that the President, instead of pinching pennies when it comes to buying new clothes, in reality patronizes one of the most expensive tailors in Washington.

When He Buys a Suit. "The President," he said, "is always well dressed. He buys a new suit when he thinks he needs it. Of course, he gets a good price for it. Of course, he gets his shoes resoled. Who does not? If his hat gets out of shape or needs the attention of a cleaner, he has it fixed up. But he does not go to the extreme of wearing apparel until it is shabby just to save money."

His big fight is to save money in the conduct of the government. He strives for the strictest economy there, because in that way he provides for money for the average man, the taxpayer, to spend."

Some of the False Rumors. One of the most recent stories is to the effect that President Coolidge refused to pay more than $5 for a new suit. Another had him sending out his old hat to be resoled and equipped with a new ribbon for Easter. Because of the publicity that has been given these reports, local storekeepers have been afraid the example attributed to the President would be taken up by Washington society.

HAND GRENADES AND GUNS USED IN ITALIAN RIOTS

[Chicago Tribune Foreign Service.]
ROME, April 8.—"Terroring" stalked through the streets of Bologna last night. Hand grenades were exploded in various quarters of the city and there was considerable revolver shooting throughout the working class quarters. As a result there are two dead and fifteen wounded, according to the newspaper Mondo which was suppressed this afternoon.

The trouble began when a Fascist squadman saw a communist pushing a cart. It is supposed that the communist shot the Fascist.

Black shirt troops armed with clubs, hand grenades and revolvers immediately invaded the working class districts seeking trouble.

CARL MUELLER, FATHER OF M. O. BILL, STRICKEN

State Representative Carl Mueller, member from the 31st district, on the north side, and author of the Mueller certificate law which enables Illinois cities to establish municipal ownership of local transportation lines, was stricken with apoplexy in his hotel room at Springfield last night.

His condition is so serious that his brother, Capt. Ernest Mueller of the Hudson avenue police station, who was with him last night, phoned the two sons, Carl Jr. and Walter, to rush to his bedside in the Springfield hospital.

Representative Mueller is reputed to have made a fortune in the real estate business. He has been in the legislature off and on for many years.

He was first elected to the lower house in 1918 and re-elected in 1920. He served a term in the senate starting in 1922 and was returned to the house in 1924, where he has been ever since. It was during his term as senator that the act on municipal ownership which bears his name was passed.

to the interests which defeated the ordinance to come forth with an alternate proposal. The bankers who were asked to sit in with the mayor in the preparation of his plan are ready to work just as hard on any other plan. What we seek is a solution of the problem, which will avert a receivership for the Chicago surface lines when their franchise expires Feb. 1, 1927.

Eleven ward leaders, most of them aldermen, said yesterday that the principal reason the people were opposed to the ordinance was because they did not understand it. It was their opinion that taxes and fares would go up and that politics would be mixed in the management and operation of the lines.

Need Still Evident, Dever Says.

"After it is all over the outstanding fact remains that Chicago sorely needs better local transportation," said Mayor Dever as he left his office. "The growth and prosperity of the city are hindered by the lack of it. I thought and still think that our ordinance was a practical and feasible solution. Perhaps we will find some other plan."

Thus Thursday's straw vote, summarized Tuesday morning, showed a trend of public sentiment against the ordinance, although not so large as registered at the polls. It was pointed out in that summary that the trend on the second question, which was the controlling factor in the poll, was 43.17 per cent of the voters for the ordinance and 56.82 per cent against.

Comparison With Straw Vote.

It was not anticipated that 566,782 persons would go to the polls, but, applying the percentages to that total vote cast, a comparison between the straw votes and the actual votes is as follows:

	Real votes.	Straw votes.
For	277,551	246,232
Against	339,232	320,550
Totals	616,783	566,782

The straw votes on the first question were more favorable to the ordinance, but the people when they got to the polls decided that they would vote "No" on both questions.

Another view of the straw vote also indicates that it showed the trend of public opinion, although did not represent popular opposition to the ordinance as strong as it proved to be.

Taking the second question, which was in control of the situation in the straw vote as pointed out, the percentage of votes for and against in straw and real votes follows:

	REAL VOTES.	STRAW VOTES.
For	277,551	246,232
Against	339,232	320,550
Totals	616,783	566,782

These percentages of straw votes were printed in The Tribune last Tuesday morning, before the polls opened.

O'Banion Aid on Trial as Boozie Hijacker

"Dapper Dan" McCarthy, constant companion of Dean O'Banion before the latter was murdered, yesterday went on trial for the second time on charges that he, O'Banion and Earl Weiss hijacked a truck load of booze on Jan. 21, 1924. McCarthy and O'Banion were defendants at the first trial after which the jury disagreed.

AUTO INJURIES SIX MONTHS OLD FATAL TO WOMAN

Train Kills Two Brothers
at Woodstock.

After lingering six months, suffering from injuries received in an automobile accident, Mrs. Charlotte Phillips, 78, lost her struggle for life yesterday and died at her home at 5600 South State street. Police were called to in-

MRS. CHARLOTTE PHILLIPS.
Investigate the accident.
The death raised Cook county's motor death toll since Jan. 1 to a total of 171.
Oscar Pacey, 53, of Salem, Wis., and his brother, Arthur Pacey, 44, of Wilmet, Wis., were killed when the automobile in which they were riding was struck by a fast passenger train

CHILD, 2, MAY BE BABY LILLIAN OF 1923 KIDNAP FAME

Hackensack, N. J., April 8.—Prosecutor A. C. Hart of Bergen county, N. J., tonight said that the child found in possession of Mr. and Mrs. F. V. Grofe of Englewood, N. J., thought to be Lillian McKenzie, kidnaped daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter McKenzie of New York City, may never be definitely identified as the McKenzie girl.

When the McKenzies were first shown photographs of the girl, known as Mildred Grofe, they identified her positively. Since then, he said, they have become uncertain. It will be difficult, he said, to identify the girl positively, as it is 20 months since the McKenzie child, then 3 months old, was kidnaped.

COOK HE TOOK TO CHURCH DEMANDS $20,000 IN SUIT

Add going to church to the list of things a man can do to get himself into trouble.
Jacob Stark, 75 years old, took his housekeeper, Mrs. Clara Poffenholtz, 68 years old, to church several times. Now he is being sued for breach of promise.

If the twelve good men and true who looked on while Mrs. Poffenholtz wept a bit and talked a bit yesterday in Judge Pam's court believe the lady's story, those trips to church are going to cost the aged contractor $20,000.

Attended Church Together.
The visits to the church fit into the story this way: It was only when they attended a west side Christian Science church that her friends ever saw Mrs. Poffenholtz with Mr. Stark when she was keeping house for him in the fall of 1922 and the spring of 1923. Their impressions of how devoted he seemed to his pink cheeked cook are about the only evidence, aside from her own story, that the woman has to offer.

She said that a week after she went to work for Stark, a few months after his wife died in 1922, she became engaged to her employer. It all came about one morning after a fine, big breakfast while Mr. Stark sat in the sunny dining room reading about a girl of 18 who had eloped with a boy of 18. They talked about the elopement and love a while—and the aged contractor, who had known his cook a week, suddenly suggested that they do as the young things had done—get married.

Decide Case Today.
His wife's rings, her clothing, any any furniture she wanted he gave her, the woman said. During all her story the little Mr. Stark, brown of hair and erect, but with a head that trembles upon his thin stalk of a neck, slumped lower and lower in his chair and shook his head from time to time.

After they became engaged, he took her to church and sat right in his own pew with her—and that's proof enough that he meant to marry her, the lady declares. The case will be ended today.

CHAPMAN IS AN ALIAS, BANDIT'S HISTORY SHOWS

New York, April 8.—(Special.)—The real identity of Gerald Chapman, who is awaiting in Hartford, Conn., the dawn of June 25 to be hanged, became known today.

He is George Chartres. That is the name he gave when arrested first as a prisoner of 19, in 1907. His parents were decent, intelligent Irish folk who came to this country many years ago and died while their three children were still in knickerbockers and short dresses.

George Chartres, alias Gerald Chapman, has a brother and a sister still living. The brother, a man of 40, lives here with his wife and three small children. He was formerly a city employe and now holds a responsible educational position.

For years he has not mentioned the name of his brother, or permitted any mention of him. Likewise the girl, Gerald's younger sister, has dropped from the life of her New York brother.

These facts became public through the efforts of Connecticut authorities, who have been investigating Chapman's past.

COUNCIL PLUMS MAKING GOSSIP FOR CITY HALL

Aldermen to Hold Caucus by Monday.

Reorganization of the new city council was the chief topic of discussion in the city hall yesterday. A council caucus will be held next Saturday or Monday to select the committee on committees, which will have the task of selecting chairmen and members of the various committees. The business of the city will be done in the next two years.

With $180,000, $90 to be spent in the first year, the finance committee is the first of importance. With a new traction ordinance to be passed out, the committee on local transportation will be a place of importance.

Probable Selecting Committee.
The informal session, or caucus, of the following aldermen are slated to be on the selecting committee: Ald. Ross A. Woodhull, Joseph B. Thompson, Dennis H. Horan, Edward J. Clark and E. I. Frankhauser. Frankhauser is the only Republican in the list.

Speculation indulged in by council members, as a result of Tuesday's caucus, is that the administration on the selection program was whether it was necessary in the future to grant that the administration must have everything that it can get.

The caucus will lead to several hard fights in the committee awards. The council will divide into five groups for the purpose of voting on the committees on committees in caucus. Each group will have one man on the committees. The committee will go to some resort to get away from the city hall and other influences and will make its selections in the quiet manner.

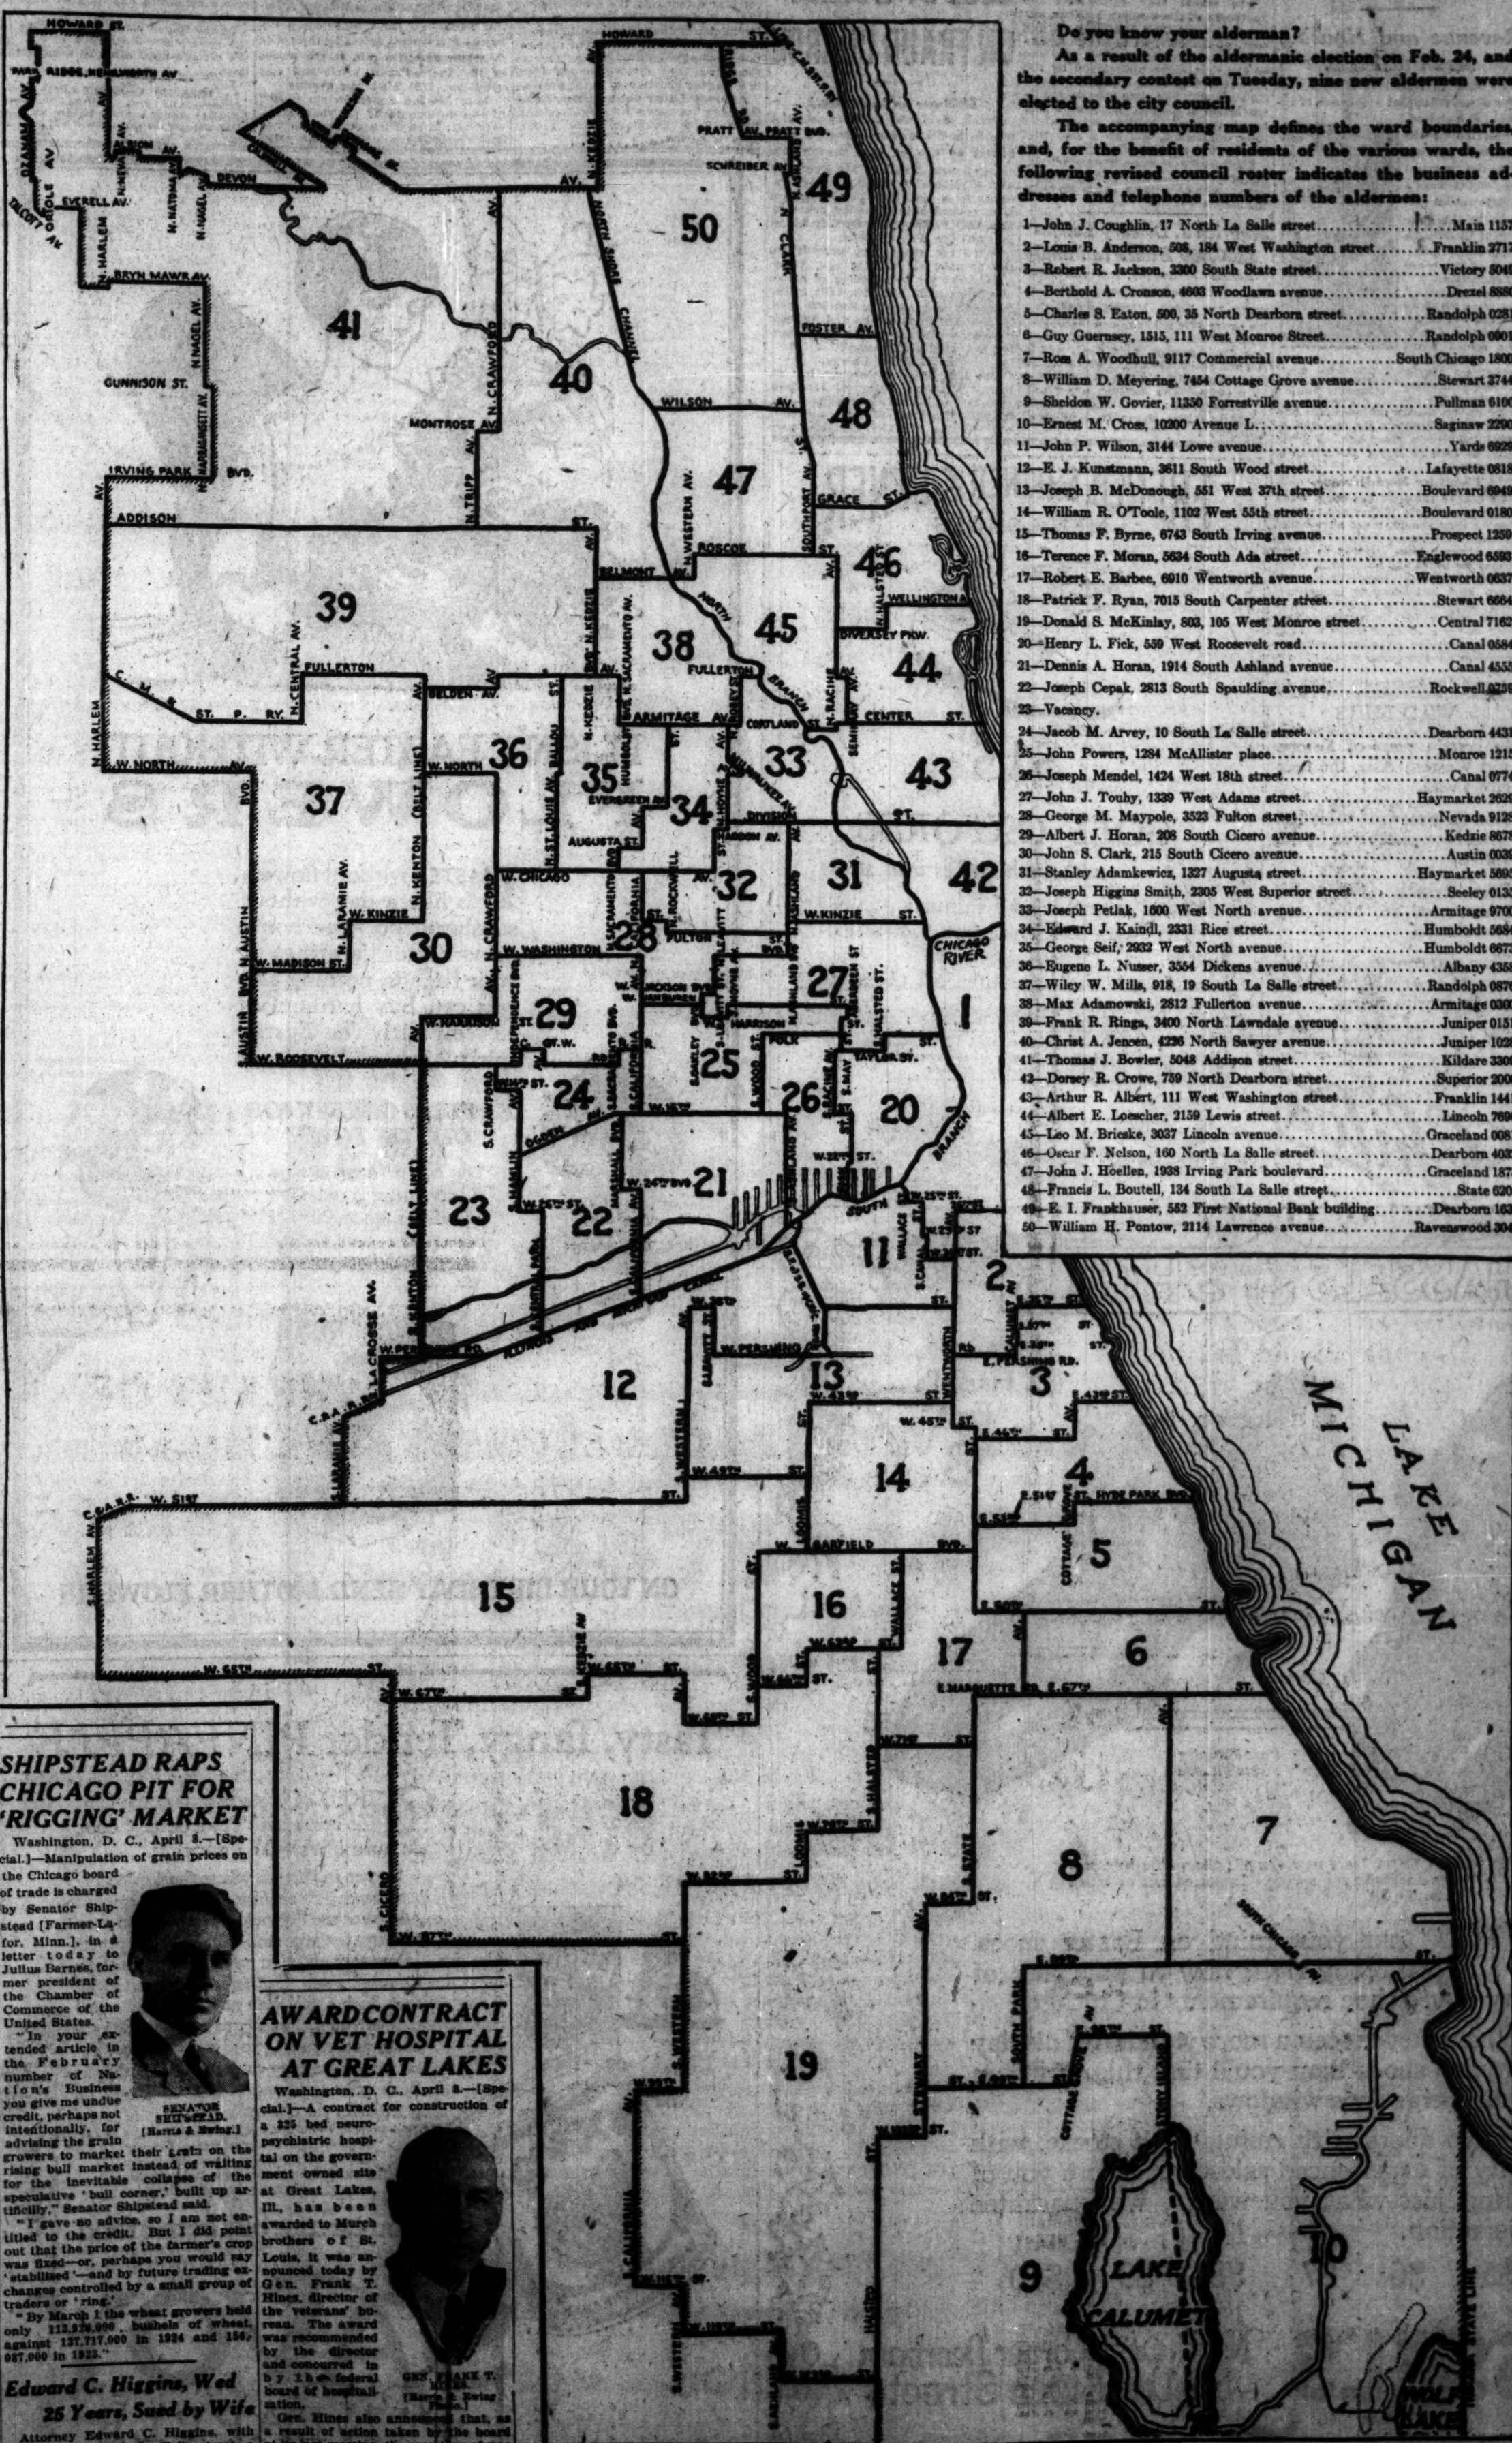

Scheduled Due to Hold On.
Ald. Woodhull, who was named as the chairman of the finance committee, will keep this place as a question. It is probable that he will. Ald. Woodhull has a strong following in the finance committee, left vacant by the retirement of Ald. U. S. Schwartz. Ald. John S. Clark and Ald. D. C. Dwyer also are named as aspirants for the job.

The temporary chairmanship may go to Ald. Woodhull, who is made by the Municipal Voters' league to be one of the council leaders of the city. The "hook" industries are doing another fight. Ald. Dennis Horan is said to be anxious for this job.

The new city council will order a special election to fill a vacancy in the Twenty-third ward caused by the death of Ald. Joseph O. Kostner. John Kostner, former alderman of this ward, was killed by a car on Tuesday. Kostner's campaign manager, John G. Paluch, came to the city hall to announce the death of Kostner.

Caucus Starts Today.
Caucuses of the aldermanic caucus will start today. There was some talk of a caucus on the part of John W. Costner, who lost to Ald. Christ A. Horan in the Fortieth ward by 25 votes, as the unofficial returns.

SHIPSTEAD RAPS CHICAGO PIT FOR 'RIGGING' MARKET

Washington, D. C., April 8.—[Special.]—Manipulation of grain prices on the Chicago board of trade is charged by Senator Shipstead (Farmer-Labor, Minn.), in a letter today to Julius Burpee, former president of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States.

"In your extended article in the February number of National Business you give me undue credit, perhaps not intentionally, for advising the grain growers to market their grain on the rising bull market instead of waiting for the inevitable collapse of the speculative 'bull corner' built up artificially," Senator Shipstead said.

"I gave no advice, so I am not entitled to the credit. But I did point out that the price of the farmer's crop was fixed—or, perhaps you would say, 'stabilized'—and by future trading exchanges controlled by a small group of traders or 'rings'."

"By March 3 the wheat growers held only 112,525,000 bushels of wheat, against 127,717,000 in 1924 and 154,087,000 in 1923."

Washington, D. C., April 8.—[Special.]—A contract for construction of a 325 bed neuro-psychiatric hospital on the government owned site at Great Lakes, Ill., has been awarded to Murch Brothers of St. Louis, it was announced today by Gen. Frank T. Hines, director of the veterans' bureau. The award was recommended by the director and concurred in by the federal board of hospitalization.

Gen. Hines also announced that, as a result of action taken by the board at its last meeting, the secretary of war has been requested to assign a sufficient portion of the reservation at Fort Meade to a site for a new hospital there.

SCHOOL BOARD O K'S McANDREW COUNCIL PLAN

Indorses Proposal for Retirements at 70.

Teachers' councils, long an issue between Supt. William McAndrew and the teaching force, were passed upon by the board of education yesterday. By a vote of 7 to 2 the board approved of the new type of council recommended by the superintendent.

Wm. McANDREW.

Yesterday's meeting marked the termination of a bitter fight that has been waged over the councils ever since the superintendent came here a year ago. Shortly after his arrival he refused to call meetings of the old organization, and finally succeeded in getting the board to abolish them and authorize him to proceed with their reorganization.

Plan Includes All Bodies.

The new council, to be known as the Chicago public school teachers' council, will be made up of representatives of every voluntary teachers' and principals' organization in the city and will include members of the educational staff and school trustees. It will meet at the direction of the superintendent and at such times as he sees fit. The old councils included every teacher in the system and met during school hours.

The board's action was taken in the face of bitter objection to the new advisory body. Nearly every organization to be represented voiced opposition to the measure before open hearings on the subject conducted by the school administration committee. It is known that at least one organization—the 'Chicago Teachers' federation'—will not participate in the new organization. That body is about to introduce a bill in the legislature to reinstate the old councils.

Annuity After 70 Approved.

Supt. McAndrew's proposed bill to retire teachers and members of the educational staff at the age of 70 with an annuity of $1,500 for the remainder of their lives was unanimously approved by the board. The bill will be introduced in the general assembly shortly, and the board will urge its adoption.

In addition to the $1,500 income a teacher would receive annuity from the pension fund, making it possible for a teacher to retire at 70 with a maximum income of $2,500.

C. M. MODERWELL, OUT SOON, TELLS SCHOOLS' NEEDS

Revenue and Housing
Are Put First.

Increase of school revenue, reduction of activities that are causes of expense and concentration of the housing problem are the greatest needs of Chicago's public school system, in the opinion of Charles M. Moderwell, president of the board of education.

CHARLES M. MODERWELL.
(Photo.)

Mr. Moderwell set forth his views on the eve of his retirement from the school board in a report received by Mayor Dever yesterday. The report is a résumé of the board's achievements and accomplishments since Mr. Moderwell's appointment two years ago. He will retire as soon as Mayor Dever names a successor.

Pleads for More Revenue.

"I believe the time has come when the public schools, if they are to function as they should, must have added revenue," the report states. "Chicago has always been willing to spend money for parks and boulevards, street widening, public improvements of every kind and adequate fire protection. Why should it not be willing to spend money for its public schools without the product of which this city cannot continue to maintain its supremacy as the metropolis of the west?"

WILD BEETS

In certain parts of Europe and Western Asia, the beet grows wild.

And its great food value has never been discovered by the natives.

Beets are rich in iron which makes good, red blood and rosy cheeks.

They also contain an abundance of sugar which supplies the body with energy.

As part of a vegetable dinner, they tickle the palate and delight the eye.

WORTHY CAUSED S. "MUZZLING," KAROLYI AVERS

Warns Americans of Hungarian Menace.

Count Karolyi, who has been an enemy since 1919, arrived today in New York and immediately broke through the barrier imposed upon him by the United States.

He declared the Horthy régime in Hungary feared his words would bring the American people to with- draw their moral and financial support from the present government of Hungary.

He asserted that the Horthy régime had brought political and social chaos to Hungary through Count Laszlo Karolyi, Hungarian minister to the United States, and the Countess Szechenyi, the former Gladys Vanderbilt.

Warns U. S. Investors.

He urged the American people to invest their money in Hungary unless Hungary became a democracy. Further, he warned without assurance that the government would be democratic, he went on, would mean that the United States was financing a new war.

"The people of the United States do not realize, because the Horthy régime is so successful, that it is a camouflage by the Horthy régime, that those who are running Hungary now are the very same men who fought during the war," he said.

"When the war I fought against the Horthy régime, this made me an enemy of the Horthy régime."

"My other crime was that I was a Jew. I was not only against war in general but especially against this war on the side of Germany."

Wanted Land Reform.

"Not only the greatest crime in the world but the greatest crime in the world is the want of land reform for the pur-

DAY IN SPRINGFIELD

SENATE.

Bills passed: Barber bill, requiring that United States Constitution be taught in public schools; Searcy bill, requiring collection agencies to obtain certificates from secretary of state before engaging in business.

Bills recommended: By license committee, to reduce legal rates of interest for pawnbrokers; to limit horse racing to thirty days in any two months; to license vending machines; by committee on community welfare, to convert Camp Logan into state park; by committee on municipalities, to authorize creation of mosquito abatement districts.

Committee on judiciary tabled bill to prohibit dissemination of birth control information.

Revenue committee appointed subcommittee to study tax rates of Chicago and downstate cities.

Fight against "fish and game" bill brought two important amendments.

Bills introduced: By Barber, to provide for continuous terms of courts of original and appellate jurisdiction and give Supreme court new powers over lower courts; by Bolter, to make "Illinois" official song of state; by Cuthbertson, to require county collectors to turn over to local governments monthly all bonds due them; by Roberts, to add cemeteries to list of places where all citizens are given equal rights; by Sneed, to create mining commission to study safety and conservation of coal and revise mining laws.

On motion of Senator Barber proposed increase of one-half mill in tuberculosis sanitarium tax reduced to one-eighth mill, making difference of $750,000 a year.

HOUSE.

Action postponed by judiciary committee on bill requiring one day rest in seven, an old age pension bill, and printers ink bill against fraudulent advertising.

Bills introduced: By A. O. Arnold, to create a public fish and game preserve of 5,000 acres in Adams county; by Hutton, to regulate sale of turpentine; by Moore, to prohibit carnivals except by municipal authority; by O'Toole, to increase firemen's salaries in Chicago, subject to referendum; by Sonneman, to authorize cities and villages to pass ordinances requiring cutting of weeds.

chase of the land by the government and its sale to the people.

"When the Horthy régime in Hungary says it wants to reestablish a kingdom in Hungary without mentioning what kind of a kingdom, it is camouflaging its aim to restore the Hapsburgs. And Hungary is but the stepping stone on which they want to rebuild not only the Austro-Hungarian monarchy but the alliance with imperialistic Germany."

"If America pours her money into Hungary under the existing conditions, and if there is another war in the next few years, America will have financed it. I cannot understand why Washington should have treated me as it did, merely because Gladys Vanderbilt married Count Szechenyi."

JOKERS IN SMALL

FISH-GAME BILL

Brand It Assault on the Lowden Code.

BY PARKE BROWN.

Springfield, Ill., April 8.—(Special.)—Two jokers in the so-called fish and game bill were slaughtered today in the biggest fight against an administration measure that has developed during the present session of the assembly.

The bill, which creates two new departments—conservation of purchases and construction—was called up for passage in the senate. The fight was so severe that Senator R. E. Duvall of Belleville, who was handling it, consented to having it go back to second reading for amendment.

Force Two Amendments.

Thereupon the opposition forced the acceptance of two important amendments. One undid the provision of the bill which would have permitted purchases without advertising or bids in amounts less than $1,000. The other restored the provision of the present law requiring officials to devote their entire time to their state duties.

The present law also requires that supplies shall be bought only after advertising for bids and the joker removing this requirement was not detected until after long discussion.

And in the same way only the closest scrutiny developed that the phraseology requiring officials to give full time to the state had been dropped from the proposed revision.

Barbour Starts Fight.

Senator James J. Barbour opened the battle with a slam bang attack at the morning session.

"The gang is getting hungry," he said. "This is a graft bill. It is an attempt to destroy the Lowden code and to return to the days when all the boys were taken care of. Taxes have doubled in eight years and if the plans of the administration are successful they will go still higher."

Senator Duvall consented to letting the bill go back to second reading at the afternoon session. At that time

Senator Duvall consented to letting the bill go back to second reading at the afternoon session. At that time

Senator Richard J. Barr, senate boss, came to the rescue of the bill, contending that there was nothing sacred about the Lowden code, that it was the best that could be drawn up at the time it was adopted, and the splitting the department of public works as proposed was justified because of the growth of road building.

Backs Lowden Code.

Thereupon Senator Harold C. Keisinger of Aurora delivered his first real speech of the session. He championed the Lowden code as a big advance in state government, the creation of a businesslike organization of nine cabinet members.

"This bill means the dismemberment, the disorganization, and in the end, the destruction of the Illinois idea which already has been copied by eleven states," he said.

Senator Thurlow C. Eastington prepared the amendments killing the two jokers. There were still protests against the salary boosts in the bill, but it was returned to third reading, and the opposition plans to renew its fight when it is called up once more for passage.

In the house public attention centered chiefly around the committee meetings. The most important of these was the committee on judiciary, which considered labor's bill requiring employers to give their employees one day of rest each week.

Light off the bat Frank R. Dore, Chicago representative of the Actors' Equity association, proclaimed loudly that the stage folks want a day to themselves while they are in Illinois.

"And it will not hit the box office under our plan," he said. "In Chicago half the theaters can close on Monday night and the other half on Tuesday night. Everybody knows that these two nights are bad theatrical nights."

Gunther Smith, 3420 North Claremont avenue, failed yesterday to identify Edward M. Clark, suspended engineer of the North Robey street police station, as the man who slugged and robbed him of $700 a few nights ago. Charges of robbery against Clark were dismissed by Municipal Judge Huges.

Railroads Ask Exemption.

Patron J. W. Maguire, representing the National Catholic Welfare council, and John H. Walker, president of the State Federation of Labor, spoke for the bill. John Flannigan, representing the railroads, urged that they be exempted under the bill on grounds that they could not give days off to station masters in small communities, to water pumps and similar employees.

STATE POLICE.

The Dunlap state police bill seems to have been sidetracked for the Barr bill and the Illinois Chamber of Commerce, a supporter of state police, does not like the change. Its local associations throughout the state have been asked to do everything they can for the better measure.

The Dunlap bill is the better measure, but the best bill will be the one that can be made a law. Gov. Small supports the Barr bill. It changes the title of the present road maintenance patrol to state highway police and allows the appointment of as many police as the governor wants to appoint. They would be paid out of the road fund. We believe that a better force of state police would be obtained under the Dunlap bill, but Small will not accept that, and it is opposed by some labor unions who fear the misuse of the force in strikes. The Barr bill specifies that the highway police shall enforce the motor vehicle law, patrol public highways and rural districts, and shall have all the powers possessed by policemen in cities and sheriffs. Such a force can be good or worthless according to the direction and discipline it receives.

If an administration wants to make it a pay roll brigade doing nothing all over the state it will be just such a force. If an administration wanted to make it a protection to the highways and rural districts, a body of men with a good morale held to the highest performance of duty, it would be such a body.

Citizens who want the Dunlap bill say the governor will play politics with the force established under the Barr bill. Probably he will, but we do not believe that the state should reject what it can get as a beginning of state police. The present governor may make a political machine out of the highway police, but administrations change. A unit at rural highway protection is a start, even if not the best. City police efficiency varies with various administrations, but we do not want 1 police force because any certain mayor might misuse it.

We do not believe that the supporters of state police should try to defeat the scheme the present governor will accept if that scheme is the best which can be had. There will be some good in it and it can be made better. If the Barr bill can take it hurdles which have tripped the Dunlap bill in various sessions of the legislature it will be the bill which will give the state highway police.

POLISH FEARS AND BURDENS.

In discussing a possible security arrangement with France, the German foreign office intimated that it did not consider the status quo as to Germany's eastern boundaries satisfactory. This has alarmed the Poles and brought about the voting of a new levy of 170,000 for their army, which will thus reach the stable total of 500,000.

The support of an army almost as large as that of France before the war by a nation of the size and resources of Poland is a burden which seems to us intolerable. Certainly it is a most exhausting drain which only the gravest danger or the most substantial considerations can justify to sane statesmanship.

The main consideration seems to be Polish ill-will, though doubtless the Danzig corridor is also an uncomfortable factor. Apart from the passionate pride which seems to play such a decisive part in the international relations of European peoples, small and great, it would seem that the sacrifice entailed in maintaining such a disproportionate military establishment would compel a report to some compromise with Germany. Polish policy is, however, closely interlarded with French, and probably there will be no easing of the Polish burden until there is modification of the conceptions of French policy as to the security of France and her allies. If France and Germany enter upon better relations, it may be possible for Poland to work out an understanding with the latter which will allow a more moderate military commitment. But this will, even then, depend upon the subordination of Polish national pride and ambition to economic and political considerations, which do not carry as much weight, we fear, as practical-minded Americans think they ought.

If present relations and policies persist, we can see little hope of the development by the Poles of a strong and prosperous modern state, and in that case misfortune in spite of heroic sacrifices in the meantime, will be inevitable.

SOME LAWS WE'D ENFORCE.

A subscriber who does not like us asks us to name the laws we'd enforce seeing that we don't care for prohibition, anti-prim fight and anti-fist fight laws, restrictions on citizens' habits and amusements and customs and opinions. That is simple. We'd have the laws enforced which would allow a woman to open the door of her flat in the day time without risking robbery, beating or rape. We'd have an enforcement which would make it safe for a man and his wife to take a walk or a drive on the streets without being stopped or robbed. We'd make it possible for a street car to operate without risk of being held up. We'd make it possible for a bank to do business without being a fortification and for a swimmer to go home after work without having his money taken away from him. We'd punish murder with death and have fewer murders. We'd protect children from pervers. We'd give people protection in their property and persons in the streets, in their homes and in their places of assembly and while we were doing that we'd allow them to think what they pleased, go to movies as they pleased, use what beverages they pleased and mind their own business so long as they did not offend public decency or disturb public order. If that's the answer we're glad to oblige.

MAKE 'EM LIKE IT.

Palmer Canfield, federal prohibition director for New York state, knows how to enforce prohibition. He says New York will be dry if he can have:

1. Six more United States judges in New York City to handle liquor cases only.
2. More men in the city for enforcement.
3. A divisional chief and a corps of agents for each federal judicial district.
4. A rum constabulary to patrol the Canadian border.
5. A squad of chemists to combat the diversion of specially denatured alcohol.
6. An administrative order forbidding bonding or releasing of vessels seized while transporting liquor.
7. The purchase and distribution of all bonded liquor by the government.
8. The control of retail drug stores.

Make 'em like it is the dry idea. The six federal judges are to be convicted, to padlock and to imprison without the formality of jury trial, abolished since furries won't convict in these matters. Mr. Canfield lists three kinds of pay rollers to bribe and a fourth kind to make denatured alcohol permanently poisonous. An increase in the number of deaths and in the price of liquor to meet the bribe bids would follow. He wants the government to own all the spirits in bonded warehouses, forgetting the carefully arranged thefts from government warehouses. Finally the government is to go into the drug store business. A two cent stamp free with every purchase of E Pluribus Unum brand of essence of juniper.

Mr. Canfield erects this elaborate structure to dam the flow of liquor into New York City alone. The people of New York have made it the artistic and financial capital of the country and they know what they want. One thing they want is liquor. Mr. Canfield's scheme can't possibly work. If thousands are hired to enforce the law, there remain millions determined to violate it. Not even intelligent men can devise programs which will work against such odds. The fourteenth and fifteenth amendments could not be enforced against a determined community, though they were the fruit of four years of war. The eighteenth is even harder to enforce.

A NEW WEAPON OF SEA POWER.

The Washington treaty limiting naval armament permits us to build airplane carriers up to a total of 18,000 tons. The Saratoga, just launched at Camden, N. J., is one of the two craft of this new order we have under construction. She has a tonnage of 23,000 and the other, the Lexington, is a sister ship. We could, therefore, build two more such craft and still be within our limit, which is the same as Great Britain's.

Due to our naval authorities do not favor building other carriers at this time as the type is in the experimental stage and obviously it is wise to see what the operation of the completed two will reveal and improve our designs through this experience and such knowledge as we can acquire from that of the other naval powers building carriers.

The basic requirements are, of course, understood. That is, the carrier must be fast enough not merely to accompany the fleet but to precede it. It must be able to keep at a safe distance from heavily armed ships, for it cannot itself spare space for heavy guns or torpedoes for armor. It must run, not fight. Speed also is necessary so that it can put its planes far ahead of the fleet for the observation which is the air director's first and most important duty.

The carrier must also be large enough to carry and provide for enough airplanes to make a sufficient force for wide reconnaissance, and it seems even for combat. The Saratoga will be mother ship for seventy-two planes and the present plan is that thirty-one of these shall be bombers. Only experience will develop the most effective proportion, but we may be sure that in the next great naval battle these ships will be the centers of thrilling and important phases of the combat. Ranging far below the horizon of the battle fleet with a protecting force of fast cruisers and destroyers, besides their own bombing planes, they will develop battles hardly less tremendous than the collision of the capital ships which may be decisive of ultimate victory.

Editorial of the Day

MR. DOUGHERTY'S IRE.

[Grand Rapids (Mich.) Press.]

Attorney General Andrew B. Dougherty of Michigan is one of those gentlemen who doesn't know the fight is over as long as there is anything to prod with his lance. He started fighting Chicago and is now sitting with windmills. The drainage canal fight was settled some while back when the government gave Chicago an $8,000 permit for five years. Any informed person in the middle west knows that this permit was necessary pending Chicago's construction of disposal plants; otherwise Chicago's sewage would have flooded out into Lake Michigan, and nobody wants that. When Chicago gets the sewage out of the Chicago river by the building of the enormous plant required, a task to which it must bend its energies by federal order, then will be time enough to cut down the flow which at present flows into the lake from fifth. Everybody but Mr. Dougherty has shaken hands with Chicago; Chicago has turned around, as it has a perfect right to do, and urged other lake cities to stop polluting the lake. The time has come for Mr. Dougherty to shift his attention to some of the other and larger causes of withdrawal, such as power interests. The Chicago show is over. The curtain is down and the lights are out. Mr. Dougherty is declining to do the same.

GOOD STOCK.

The doctor was examining school children. One youngster was under weight.

"You don't drink milk?"

"No."

"Live on a farm and don't drink milk at all?"

"No, we ain't got hardly enough milk for the hens."

JOHN'S CONCLUSION.

Mother—John, did you get that loaf of bread I sent you for?

John—No, the store was closed.

Mother—It couldn't be, this time of day. Did you try the door?

John—No, 'cause I saw a sign in the window, "Home Cooking."

SKIN DISEASES.

D. P. C. DOBIE thinks bicarbonate of soda is of service in the treatment of a long list of skin troubles. On the list are eczema, acne, prickly heat, carbuncles, abscesses, boils and prurigo. He gives 60 grains of bicarbonate and 30 grains of citrate, dissolved in flavored water, three times a day between meals. He bases his recommendation, in part, on clinical experience and, in part, on careful examination of the urine for degree of acidity. In his experience the urine becomes acid in all these skin conditions, and when it is made alkaline and kept so the skin gets better. This may be true of all the conditions on the list, but in carbuncles, boils, and abscesses the other factors in the case are of more importance than the reaction of the urine.

Dobie, arguing for the use of alkalis in skin affections, calls attention to the fact that the established treatment for rheumatism and gout is alkali and that many people get relief from indigestion by taking soda. However, he speaks of the great difficulty he has in keeping the urine alkaline by giving soda. It is coming to be recognized that the reaction of the urine is of more importance than has been admitted and that careful examination for degree of acidity is a source of needed information. For instance, in Bright's disease and high blood pressure the urine is highly acid habitually. But the way to correct this condition is to change the diet—not to eat meat and to eat more fruit. In treating eczema, psoriasis, and prurigo, heat, and such would have had less trouble keeping the urine alkaline if he had changed the diet, rather than given alkalis.

In the treatment of Bright's disease and high blood pressure they change the urine to neutral or alkali by giving less oatmeal, bread, pastries, cereal, meat, and fruit. Milk comes in between these groups of food. Among the alkali producing foods, the fruits rank high. This is because the fruit acids are burnt into alkali, and the carbonic acid is quickly burned off by the lungs and the alkali lingers in the tissues, while, and yet not all the fruit acids are burnt into alkali.

The chapter on vegetable and fruit acids divides these bodies into those that are acid and those that are alkali. As a rule, the performance must be repeated at intervals of about two weeks to catch the young buds that hatch from unaltered eggs.

ABSENT OWNER LOSES ON CROPS.

Chicago, April 6.—[To the Legal Friend of the People.]—I own 130 acres of land in North Dakota on which I have paid taxes regularly.

I have been advised that the land has had a crop on it for the last two years. I have not been up there for several years. If someone is beating me out of the crops, what should I do about this matter? I intend to go and see and what is being done? The representative of the land said it was growing up to quackgrass.

C. A. O. writes:

If the fuse box is, as in the ordinary case, under the exclusive control of the landlord, would he be liable if it is so that it will stand good in a court of law in this or any other country. Please let me have your opinion. J. J.

25 YEARS AGO TODAY

APRIL 9, 1900.

WASHINGTON.—Admiral Dewey is going to Chicago for the "Dewey day" celebration on May 1, as an admiral and not as a politician, despite his announcement that he is a candidate for the presidency as a Democrat. W. B. Conkey and J. M. Gleason, Chicago arrived here with plans for the celebration which will be submitted to the admiral today. They include the greatest naval, military, and civic display ever made in the west, and a brilliant ball at the Auditorium.

CHICAGO.—Mayor Harrison's message to council tonight will urge a referendum on the ordinance extending the street railway franchises of the Union Traction company.

CHICAGO.—Capt. Louis Othelm, 1st United States artillery, shot himself to death in his room in the Auditorium Annex. He and Mrs. Eva Bruce Wood were to have been married today at the home of her uncle, Walter R. Fisher, 4739 Kenwood avenue. In his room were found two wedding rings. One was inscribed: "Eva to Louis, April 9, 1900," and the other "Louis to Eva, April 9, 1900." His friends insist the shooting was an accident.

CHICAGO.—Absolute prohibition of cigarette smoking by their employees has been decreed by Montgomery Ward & Co., the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy railroad, Heath & Milligan Manufacturing company, and Hubbard, Spencer, Bartlett & Co. It is claimed the smoking of cigarettes is incompatible with efficient service.

LONDON.—St. Helena dispatches say the island made famous by the imprisonment of Napoleon is being made ready for the reception of a captured by the British. Gen. Cronk, however, will not occupy Longwood, the house occupied by Napoleon, but will be given Government house. Three acres of ground is being surrounded.

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

SPRING SONG OF AN INSURANCE PROSPECT.

Oh, not for me the rose's blush
Or bluebird's vernal lay;
The April through will I bid "Hush!"
For gloom has come this day:
Insurance men in "selling" me
Disclosed life's little joke—
"Of all the men three-score-and-ten Five out of six are broke."

I thought at 30 I had glow,
Vim, vigor and Youth's glow,
But rickets, grip, pneumonia, pip,
I learn, will lay me low.
If I should escape, what then?
This thought I can't revoke:
"Of all the men three-score-and-ten
Five out of six are broke."

How can I, holding thoughts like these,
Cry to the Spring, "Hurrah!"
A silly wheeze, when Heart Disease Is muttering "Ha Ha!"
By forty I should be extinct,
Or, living, all in goak—
Ain't life immense? "Of all old gents
Five out of six are broke."

Let robins sing, if they must;
Let sapling sing in trees;
But please, I trust, if I'm to bust
Expect no song from me!
Woe cometh when insurance sharks
Begin their dismal croak.
Hark! Hark! the larks: "Of patriarchs
Five out of six are broke!"

Gordon Seagrove.

WELL, WELL, WELL! Big Bill Albright, who helps us make up this here column when Eddie Dorman is off, made up pay him a dollar that we had bet with him on the passage of the Digger Diver traction ordinance, so it must be that the subway plan was defeated. Anyway, Big Bill bet it would be, and we bet it wouldn't, and Big Bill claimed our dollar, so it must be that the traction plan was beaten. Either that or Big Bill put one over on us.

It Shall Be Reprinted Friday.

Dear Mr. Little: I am again going to ask you to ignore the rules and reprint on Friday that glorious tribute that appeared in the Line just two years ago. It began:

If I am not mistaken it was contributed by George Carhart, Please, RH, for I shall look for it.

JUST BILL.

Nothing Like That in Chicago.

RH: I was asking Dick what sort of a town she lived in before she came to work for the telephone company. I remarked that it must have been pretty slow. She dipped into her well of English, which is full of dead cats and stovetops, for the following reply: "Slow? Well, I should cough up a rubber boot! Say, I used to write up my diary a month ahead."

MICKER THE DUCK.

LET'S SEE. We voted "Yes" at the polls Tuesday.

that was one; and George Porter voted for it, that was two; and Janet Fairbank voted for it, that was three; and Mayor Dever and Mrs. Dever voted for it, that was five; and Paddy Carr swears he voted for it, that was six. But there must surely have been somebody else voted "Yes." Oh, yes, there must have been at least one more who voted "Yes." Let's see, now who in the world could it have been?

Why, of Course.

R. H. L.: Tell Horatius Algernon that I've got his line. Recognized it right away! Tum de dum, dum, de da dum de dum dum. Sure! It's from El Trovatore and the words are: "And so are his sisters and his cousins and his aunts, his sisters and his cousins and his aunts." Remember it now?

We ARE glad that we voted for the Digger Diver traction ordinance. If we hadn't it would have been beaten worse than it was.

We'll Check Your Chauffeur in with Sylvester.

R. H. L.: I feel so sorry for poor little Sylvester, the sweet gold fish you don't care for. I'll take him. I'm starting a home for orphans of this kind. I have two nice cats already. They will be perfect companions for Sylvester. I'll have my chauffeur call for Sylvester. What time will he be ready?

The Last Page.

Le Monseigneur: Ypres—Hellfire Corner—do you remember that via dolorosa of the road to Meunin? Out of Ypres "Wipers" of sad and poignant memories, as the gray sullen dawn was breaking on a misty October morning, past the White Chateau, then Hellfire Corner, Outpost Farm, and then Hodge, that shamble of the empire's best. Zouave Wood, Sanctuary Wood, Belleward—how many Tommies were shriven in those famous but forgotten Hells by the last Woodbine of Three Castles of a peat? Ah! Le Monseigneur, you perpetuate those secret cherished memories of the war as no one else can do.

KING'S ROYAL RIFLE CORPS.

Anyhow, He's Gone.

Benevolent: You've heard of him—I. E. O. a. m. who, when the street car conductor calls "All aboard," would say, "If you can't get a board, get a plank." I noticed this morning they've put up a sign, "One was killed here." Guess the truck must have gotten him when I pushed him off the platform.

Lm.

THE TRACTION election Tuesday made us so tired that we think we'll start on a vacation next week. We couldn't think up any map to go to until suddenly, in glancing over the map, we spied Mexico. We wanted a place where there were no handies, no bootleggers, no subway talk, nothing but peace and quiet. Mexico is the very place! Sold. We're going to Mexico.

That's Just Like Hank.

R. H. L.: I know where you got that quotation, "Like a dog, he hunts in dreams." It's from Hank McNeen. But he wasn't trying to be mean. He just put it in so people would get sore and talk about him. Yes, and I know why they wouldn't have wheat on their state banner down in Carrie Nation's state. They were afraid it might be mistaken for rye. I know lots more. BURN TAYLOR.

This Listens Like a Leatherneck.

R. H. L.: The Navy reminds me of the colored man who always got good jobs of washings and cleaning up for his wife. They took us over so that we could fight the war.

L. J. M.

AND ANTHONY, a subway is way down under the earth like a silly old grave, and it's much nicer to be up on the top of the ground in the glad, young sunlight with the jolly old sky overhead. Hey, what!

PHI BETA KAPPA IN A HOSTILE WORLD.

Chicago, April 3.—No scholar in the undergraduate life of one of our universities or colleges would expect to receive the recognition or appreciation given to a successful football player. As much as people know this to be true, the statement gives a shock coming from such an authority as Dr. Henry S. Pritchett, president of the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching.

Further corroboration of these adverse sentiments is the contemptuous attitude, especially of students in general, toward Phi Beta Kappa, the highest and oldest national honor society. There is an actual story of a new student, who, upon getting high grades the first year and being teased about it and told that he was going to be a "Phi Beta," purposely did poorly in the final examinations of the second year.

There has been a growing discontent of Phi Beta Kappa about the ineffectiveness and futility of their organization. Their influence is felt neither at the university nor in public. The majority of Phi Beta Kappa are ashamed to wear their key. Let no one say it is modesty. No athlete is too modest to wear the big letter advertising his accomplishments.

The society of Phi Beta Kappa is dedicated to high ideals, to service to mankind, and to ever advancing standards of knowledge. The trouble is that it is inactive. New York is the only city that ever has a clubhouse. Elsewhere the members generally do not know each other.

Who knows how many Phi Beta Kappas are now in Chicago, going each apart in a world hostile to the ideals for which they should stand. They need each other, and united could make a force for good. Perhaps there are enough members to establish a club center here. At any rate, the local universities would be glad to extend their hospitality to them, and those outside of university life could join with those within to make a reality of Phi Beta Kappa, which means only on the campus but in the world at large.

GARDENS IN VACANT LOTS.

Chicago, April 3.—There are many thousands of vacant lots in Chicago, and there are also many thousands of people who would like to use these vacant lots for gardens. I know by experience that it is possible to develop a clearing house which will bring these two elements together and that such a clearing house can be made to pay its own way.

I had personal experience in this matter in Minneapolis, where I organized the Minneapolis Garden club, which was instrumental in putting in 18,000 gardens on the vacant land in that city in the course of four or five years. If Chicago could do proportionately well, think what it would mean to the appearance of our city.

BRINGING COURTS INTO CONTENT.

Chicago, April 6.—Your editorial "Bringing Courts Into Content" is the very best intimation that you fight not for principle but for purposes better known to yourself. The law does not deny any man the right to bail unless in capital cases where the presumption of guilt is great and the proof is evident. In the case of Ruppert in keeping it in the back of his mind while enjoying it every day.

If this property was divided and families, these same families would cultivate and preserve it because it would belong to them, and they would be proud in keeping it in the back of their mind while enjoying it every day.

If the forest preserve is intended to maintain the beauty of our wooded country, it has failed, for one can ride past these places in the summer and find them anything but lovely with the grass and brush either burned or worn down. Some from these places are now being used for parking cars and oil and grease from parked cars.

GOVERNOR'S SON
LANDS IN COURT
ON GIRL'S STORYSays She Asked Him to Take Her to Columbus.

Zanesville, O., April 8.—(Special.)—A formal hearing of contributing to the delinquency of a minor will be held in Probate court here tomorrow against Hal Donahay, 17 year old son of Gov. A. V. Donahay, Bernard Roll, officer, said tonight. He will be arraigned before Probate Judge Clarence Graham tomorrow.

Young Donahay finds himself in this predicament as a result of his taking Lillian Vogel, 15 year old daughter of the girl's father, to Columbus Sunday night, when she was discovered in a rooming house in Columbus by the governor's wife, after Mrs. Lillian Vogel had received a telephone call from Zanesville. Mrs. Donahay went to the rooming house and took the girl to the executive mansion.

Throughout yesterday Hal denied knowledge of the girl's whereabouts, saying that he had taken her home when leaving for Columbus. The girl's ward of the Muskingum county juvenile court, her parents having separated. She lives with her father's sister in Columbus.

Confronted with the girl at the executive mansion in Columbus this afternoon, Hal admitted he drove the girl to Columbus.

Told Story to Chief.
The Vogel's story, as related by Hal, was that he had been made a part of the juvenile court of Muskingum county after the separation of the father and mother, her privilege had been greatly restricted. She was this as her reason for leaving Zanesville.

Last Sunday night she said Hal had been in company with a girl named and another man called for her by her mother's home to take a ride. They drove toward Columbus and the man suggested that they get into a rooming house and have a "real party." It was suggested the governor's son should and the party immediately started to Zanesville. It was about 10 p. m. Sunday night when they arrived at his aunt's home and because it was the "dead line" to her rooming home at night, she turned away from the place.

BEN THE CLOWN IS SCULLION TO SICK MRS. TURPIN

Los Angeles, Cal., April 8.—(Special.)—From grease paint and $2,500 a week as comedy king to elbow grease as sole dishwasher and man servant around his own little cottage is Ben Turpin's tale of chivalry.

The happy married life of Ben and Mrs. Turpin, in a comfortable dwelling in Hollywood, had long been one of the idyllic bits of realism in a background of purple pasts and crimson presents in the movie colony.

Last December, Mrs. Turpin fell ill. Her hearing became affected to the point of extreme deafness, and in the last picture Ben made, he went through his ocular contortions more by force of will than from the love of it.

Doctors told Ben Mrs. Turpin's trouble was chiefly mental but should not be aggravated. His wife's illness always became accentuated when the comedian was compelled to leave her side, so in December he quit Mack Sennett's salary roll to stay home and cheer her up.

Presence of anybody else irked Mrs. Turpin, so all servants were dismissed and Ben does the housework.

2 Minnesota Banks with $440,000 Deposits Closed

St. Paul, Minn., April 8.—Two state banks in Minnesota were ordered closed today by A. J. Veigel, state superintendent of banks. The State bank of Morton, with deposits of $300,000, was forced to close because of depleted reserves, Mr. Veigel said, and the Citizens' State bank of Frazer, with deposits of $140,000, was ordered to suspend business because of bad paper.

The Deep Sea Treat That "Can't Be Beat"

BLUE FLAG Crabmeat comes from the large species weighing 80 to 120 pounds—caught in coldest deep sea waters. That's why it is more digestible and healthful than most sea food.

Note the large, white, flaky pieces in a can of BLUE FLAG Crabmeat! Only the finest, most delicately flavored part is good enough for BLUE FLAG.

GAS

If you are going to move, the first thing you will need in your new home is GAS SERVICE. That is something you would not want to be without for even a few hours.

As soon as you have decided on your new home, and know the date you are going to move, call or write to the gas company. Be sure and give the correct address of your new place; with floor, or apartment number, and where and when our man can get the key.

Mistakes make delays in service. Remember that our inspector must get into every room before he will turn on the gas. This is to prevent the possibility of any gas pipes or jets having been left open.

Do not wait until a day or two before you move to notify us. The sooner we get this information the better we can arrange to give you gas service on the day you want it.

A RECENT advertisement of The Chicago Daily News States:

"That The Daily News is the outstanding sales medium in Chicago for legitimate merchandise of all kinds is proved by the fact that year after year it prints a far greater volume of display advertising than any other daily newspaper in Chicago. "It is of interest and importance to furniture dealers to know that in the year 1924 The Daily News printed 1,047,546 agate lines of furniture advertising as against 736,867 lines printed by the daily newspaper having the next highest score."

As a matter of fact, The Chicago Tribune during 1924 printed 2,053,648 agate lines of furniture advertising. This exceeds the total of The News by more than a million lines.

The News bolsters up its claim to leadership by subtracting from The Tribune's total all lineage which appeared on Sunday. This may not count with The News but it certainly counts with furniture dealers who spend far more in The Tribune each Sunday than in The News during the entire week.

Write for the booklet "What's All the Shootin' For?" which exposes the distortion of lineage figures.

Eastertide Is Reflected in Radio Music

Elmer Hears Fine Concert by Drake Ensemble.

BY ELMER DOUGLASS.

The first of the Easter time programs, just a beginning, but giving the evening a mellow tone.

Strangely, the overture to the evening was an actual overture, that of the "Mousetrap" played by the Drake concert ensemble, W-G-N, at 8:30. There was a remarkable Bach resemblance here that the writer had never before noticed.

There are a number of artists heard from time to time, yet fall through no fault of theirs to get into this column. One of these is Henrietta Nolan, violinist. Miss Nolan has appeared frequently at KTW and WQJ, but whenever she is she adds a touch of quiet, dignified refinement. There is a simple, graceful naturalness, a singularly accurate ear for the correct pitch, and a surety that places her among the few. These same admirable characteristics were again noticed in her program at KTW from 8 to 9 last night.

There is the temptation to have some fun over the "Twenty-six Mellow Voices" factory, which is a simple, graceful naturalness, a singularly accurate ear for the correct pitch, and a surety that places her among the few. These same admirable characteristics were again noticed in her program at KTW from 8 to 9 last night.

Abbreviated radio concert performance of "Rigoletto" have been heard almost by the dozens, but the one given by the Knappier studios, WMAQ, 8:35 to 9:35, was about as fine as any and better than many. Fine voices, all of them; a choice selection of numbers, and speed. Haste is made to assure Florence Cole Talbert, coloratura soprano, that her work must have won for her universal admiration. It was pure in tone, true to pitch, colorful, flexible—that the plenty for this time.

The WMAQ players followed in an abbreviated performance of the old English morality play, "Everyman." If the stage presence of the mocking, merciless, black costumed character, Death, was not visible, his demonic summons were heard. And so were the moralities and platitudes with which this play abounds. It was a reasonably appropriate program.

BROADCAST SONG FROM AIRPLANE 4,000 FEET IN AIR

Dayton, O., April 8.—A musical program was broadcast tonight from an airplane in flight over Dayton and the Miami valley. Flying in a circle a plane piloted by Maj. Hugo Kober, commanding officer of the 82d observation squadron, dispensed entertainment, including talking machine selections and speeches.

The concert was continued for two hours and broadcast was made on a wave length of 456 meters.

The airplane reached a height of 4,000 feet during part of the journey, after remaining at 2,000 feet for some time. It was the first instance of broadcast from the air at night.

RADIO PROGRAMS FOR TODAY

(Thursday, April 9.)

(Standard Time Throughout.)

The Easter high mass concert of the Paulist Fathers of Chicago will be broadcast by W-G-N, opening at noon on Sunday, from St. Mary's church.

Frederick Bether, baritone; Frederick H. Crowe, tenor, and Frederic Corlies, cellist, will be heard in the 8:30-9 o'clock concert this evening from W-G-N, 1230 Congress station, on the Drake hotel. Previous to the concert, Theodore V. Hinks, oriental rug buyer of Marshall Field & Co., will talk for ten minutes on his late seventeen month tour of the Asiatic interior, and their closing selection stated for a reason, was the "Bells of St. Mary's." These young men are under the tender care of the altogether responsible and admirable Burton Thatcher, the well known baritone and vocal instructor.

LAVISH AS SWAIN, STINGY AS MATE, WIFE DECLARES

As a suitor, Harold B. Fuerstenberg, president of the Fuerstenberg Cotton Goods company, 327 South Market street, couldn't spend too much money upon his fiancée. But as a husband, Mr. Fuerstenberg had "one pocket" idea, according to a bill for separate maintenance filed yesterday by Mrs. Annette O. Fuerstenberg, 1310 Hyde Park boulevard.

"I received $50,000 in bonds from my mother as a wedding present," Mrs. Fuerstenberg said. "My husband persuaded me to give him the money to invest. And he was terribly stingy. He wouldn't let me buy souvenirs on our honeymoon. At dinner one night there was one meat ball left over. He wrapped it up and took it downtown next day for his lunch."

ACTRESS' CHILD KIDNAPED FROM HOME OF NURSE

Elmer Simpson, 4 years old, was kidnapped yesterday morning under the eyes of her nurse, Mrs. Irvin L. Clymer, 5447 Dorchester avenue. An excited, hatless man, who may be the baby's father, entered Mrs. Clymer's home where the baby has been living for a year, seized the child and fled.

Elmer is the daughter of Allison Simpson, a vaudeville singer, who is said to be on her way to Chicago from an engagement in Seattle, Wash. The child's father is believed by Mrs. Clymer to live in Dennison, O. She does not know his first name as the Simpsons have been separated more than a year.

However, she knows that Simpson now has the custody of a son, slightly older than the girl. She declared she was sure the father took Elmer.

to meet for the first time since being imprisoned. Together they will observe the Jewish holiday, the Passover.

With four other prisoners of the same faith, and with a rabbi to guide them, they will hold services in a room adjoining the prison chapel and will then be given the rest of the day to commune with each other on the subject in which they are paying for the murder of Robert Frank.

For them the clanging machines of the prison factory will be simply echoes for the time being. Neither will be required to labor during the entire day, their first holiday outside of Sundays since the doors of the prison closed behind them Oct. 8.

Relatives will be permitted to visit both, and it is probable that several persons will be with the two suave youths who were captured and sentenced after their psychological attempt to perpetrate "the perfect crime" in the murder of the Franks.

Warden Whitman said yesterday that the two college boys are model prisoners.

They started their prison life in June C, the middle stage in the penitentiary to which all prisoners are assigned. After that it is up to the prisoner to ascend or descend in the social scale of the barred walls.

Called Model Prisoners.

Loeb and Leopold, Warden Whitman said, by earnest endeavor and obedience to the prison rules, already have progressed to grade B and within the year, at the progress they are now maintaining, should reach the highest rating, or grade A.

Warden Whitman asserted that both boys have fitted themselves into the prison regime without a murmur.

Backache Pain
Ended By Treating Inflamed Nerves

In Every Case of Backache, the Actual Pain Is Caused by Irritation or Pressure on the Nerves of the Back.

Pain in all forms of backache is always due to an irritation or inflammation of the nerves. When you feel pain in your back, it is the nerves of the back that hurt.

As everyone knows that in a toothache, the pain is in the nerve of the tooth.

So many authors fail to realize this, they apply oil and do not reach the nerve of the tooth. In just the same manner, the pain in the nerves of the back is not reached by applying oil which has no special power to reach the nerve.

Oil can be had at any of the stores of your city, with a written guarantee of its purity and effectiveness. It is the only oil that can be used in the treatment of backache.

EXPLOSION AND FIRE FATAL TO AGED MAN, GIRL

Real Estate Dealer Is One Victim.

A fire early yesterday morning caused the death of a 73-year-old man. A fire, combined with a gas explosion, which blew down a heavy stone cornice, caused the death last night of a 3-year-old girl and the serious injury of her mother and 6-year-old sister.

Mrs. Anna Anderson, Charlotte Anderson, aged 3 years, and Annabelle, aged 6, of 1812 West Jackson boulevard, were returning home from the grocery at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon when they passed for a moment on Marshfield avenue beside the Howard apartment building, the entrance of which is at 1838 West Jackson boulevard.

Just about that time Joseph Simon, the janitor, had been sent to the roof to investigate a fire reported there. Gas, collected between the roof and the ceiling, exploded; the entire cornice fell to the sidewalk and buried the Andersons beneath the debris.

They were taken to the Cook county hospital, where Charlotte died several hours later. Her skull had been crushed in. Mrs. Anderson, who is suffering from a fractured skull, is not expected to live. Annabelle had two fingers chopped off by the falling cornice.

Simon, the janitor, was hurled to the floor by the explosion, and was severely burned on the face and hands. He is at the Cook county hospital.

Alexander White, pioneer Chicago real estate dealer, was suffocated by fumes early yesterday morning when he rushed into his office, 6329 Stony Island avenue, from his rooms above after first escaping to the street. He was aroused when the flames first made their way from the Humding Dairy company, 6349 Stony Island avenue, and cracked about his frame building.

Firemen Sullivan and Sprague rushed after him and picked him up lifeless on the stairs. White was taken to the Jackson Park hospital where he was pronounced dead.

The fire's estimated damage is $75,000, including the destruction of eight trucks and two touring cars.

FIND MISSING MAN'S BODY IN RIVER.

The body of William Koop, 28, of 1816 North Park avenue, who was missing for two weeks, was found floating in the river near Ross street yesterday. Koop had been out at work, it was said, and it is thought he committed suicide while depressed.

After a full testimony by Municipal Judge Henry M. Walker yesterday, Judge Timothy D. Hurley in Superior court decided that the arrest of Walker on a warrant charging him with assault and battery had been illegal.

He granted a writ of habeas corpus, which makes it unnecessary for Judge Walker to face the charges of Titus Haffa, Republican committeeman in the Forty-third ward.

Judge Hurley agreed with Attorney John J. Healy, who represented Judge Walker. He ruled that Judge Walker, holding court at the time three deputy sheriffs arrested him, was immune to the law as long as his court was in session. As a result, the judge and his two bailiffs, Henry Bornhuff and William D. Beatty, were discharged.

The city council a month ago adopted a resolution recommending an inquiry into Judge Walker's sanity.

The resolution was the signal for a deluge of denunciations poured upon Judge Walker by aldermen and politicians. The judge hotly replied to all his accusers. The verbal battles culminated in the obtaining of the warrant by Haffa who asserted he had been forcibly expelled from Judge Walker's Chicago avenue courtroom on March 19.

Criminal court judges were all "too busy" to hear the case. After Judge Walker, Haffa, and their witnesses had sought unsuccessfully to get a hearing, Attorney Healy petitioned for a writ of habeas corpus for his client, Judge Hurley, to whom the writ was assigned, was the first judge to listen to the judge's story.

When Judge Walker took the stand, he astonished those present by putting his head on his arm and sobbing bitterly. Then, with tears running down his face, he told of his arrest. So did the bailiffs. Judge Hurley then made his decision and there will be no trial of the case which was set for April 19 before Judge William J. Lindsay.

RIO DE JANEIRO, April 8.—(By the Associated Press)—It is believed eleven workmen were killed and nearly fifty injured in the explosion yesterday on a lighter from which fireworks were being unloaded for the celebration of the forthcoming feast of St. John.

TIKHON, FIGHTING RUSS ORTHODOX PATRIARCH, DIES

MOSCOW, April 8.—[By the Associated Press.]—The Most Rev. Dr. Tikhon, former patriarch of all Russia, died of angina pectoris early today after an illness of three days.
Dr. Tikhon's death occurred at his residence in the Donatoy monastery, in the outskirts of Moscow. Until a nervous breakdown eight months ago, which confined him to his bed, he had shown the greatest activity in fighting for the old orthodox church.
In 1922 Archbishop Tikhon was arrested by soviet authorities for opposing seizure of church treasures for the famine fund. He was released some two years later, after reconciling himself with the new regime.
Dr. Tikhon's death removes one of the most picturesque and powerful figures remaining of old Russia.

Archbishop Tikhon, who, as archbishop of New York, once was in effect the head of the Russian church in America, where he spent nearly ten years, was chosen metropolitan of Moscow in July, 1917, and became patriarch of all Russia in November. He soon began a campaign of opposition to the bolshevik because of their attitude toward the church, and had the "anathema" pronounced upon them.
Archbishop Tikhon was born in Pakoff in 1864. He became bishop of Lublin in 1897, went to America shortly thereafter.

EX-SLAVE IS BURIED FROM SHRINE OF HIS FORMER MASTERS

Richmond, Va., April 8.—At the shrine of his former masters Robert Damell, ex-slave, today received the last rites.

It was the first time a Negro had been buried from St. Paul's Episcopal church, where Jefferson Davis, president of the confederacy, and Robert E. Lee, its field marshal, worshipped. On Monday the old Negro was killed in an automobile accident. Today his body lay before the chance where so many distinguished Virginians had preceded him. A Negro choir chanted crooning melodies, Negro mourners filled the "white folks' pews."

Above, from the balcony, white friends watched the scene with visible evidence of sorrow.

A Negro rector with white ministers on the chancel and assisted in reading the funeral rites.

Policemen with revolvers drawn fought for half an hour last night with 600 dancers who rioted in the Mila hall at 324 and Halsted streets following the shooting of one man by another in a quarrel over a woman.

It took two scores of bluecoats to quell the excited mob, which smashed furniture and broke windows in a mad frenzy. There were a dozen fist fights and more than one knife flashed.

When quiet was restored Leo Blumenthal, 19 years old, 3454 Auburn street, was found lying on the floor, three bullets in his body. He was moved to St. Paul's hospital, where his condition is serious.

W. J. Hurley, 3438 Lowe avenue, a street car company employe, was identified as the man who shot Blumenthal. He and two companions were locked up.

Our Coal Is Guaranteed

The coal we sell is the best mined—carefully inspected at both mine and yard before being delivered to you. And if it does not satisfy you, we remove it and refund your money.

Why run the risk of getting inferior coal, when you can be sure of getting utmost value for your fuel money by buying from us? Finish this season with our coal and see if it doesn't make a difference.

MATRICIDE GIVES QUICK ANSWERS AT SANITY TRIAL

Dorothy Knows Rights and Claims Them.

San Francisco, Cal., April 8.—Close arguments in the sanity hearing of Dorothy Ellington, the 17-year-old matricide, were completed this afternoon after a stormy session during which the girl twice interrupted the address of her attorney and once threatened to choke him "for telling such lies."

Judge Londerback ordered a recess of fifteen minutes. But when court was convened and Mr. McAtee resumed his argument the girl was still hysterical.

The final day brought the defendant to the witness stand in the morning. The prosecution with which she has sided in the present issue, called her, and the court allowed her to testify over the strenuous objection of the defense counsel, who contended that it was improper to require a defendant to testify in such a case.

Understands an Oath. Judge Londerback first satisfied himself that the girl wanted to testify and that she understood the nature of an oath.

The former "jean girl," whose trial for the murder of her mother, was suspended last week pending the determination of her sanity, gave calm, clear answers to all the questions put to her by Assistant District Attorney Herman D. Skille. The interrogation was intended to demonstrate the girl's capacity to understand her legal situation and her surroundings.

Even when Sylvester J. McAtee, one of her attorneys, put her through a difficult cross-examination she retained her composure, responding quietly. But in the afternoon she was a different girl. Under the ordeal of a pitiless closing argument by Mr. McAtee she became again the hysterical girl who interrupted the beginning of her murder trial with shrieks and fainting spells.

Calls Her Lawyer a Liar. "I can't stand it any longer, listening to those lies," she cried when he had analyzed testimony which he said indicated that she was abnormally cold and callous and had demonstrated no remorse after she had shot her mother in a trifling quarrel over the girl's night life.

"I wish I could take the stand and tell the truth," she cried. "Anybody could get up and tell those lies about me. You'd better get out of my sight before I choke you."

Judge Londerback ordered a recess of fifteen minutes. But when court was convened and Mr. McAtee resumed his argument the girl was still hysterical.

WINDSOR BEER PRICE UP, BUT BOOM GOES ON

Detroit, Mich., April 8.—Announcement of Windsor brewers that when Ontario's 4.4 spiritproof beer goes on sale it will cost not 8 cents a glass but at least 10 cents, and in some places probably 15 cents, has not slackened the demand for houses and business dealers' assets.

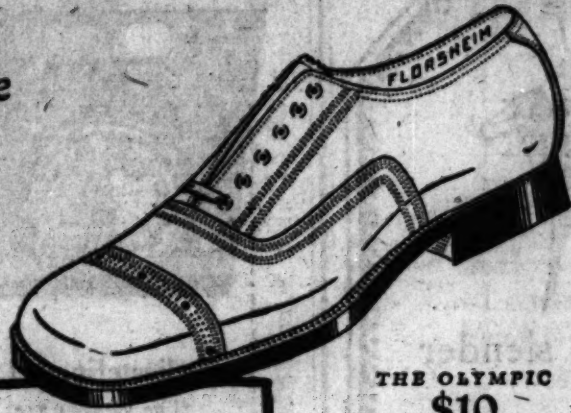

It is understood that one hotel on the Canadian side of the Detroit river changed hands last week at a high figure. Country clubs also report an unusual increase in the number of applications for membership. Efforts will be made to obtain all night ferry service between Detroit and Windsor, it is reported.

To those who anticipate that coming of the more potent beverage will mean an era of unrestricted joy came a warning from Mayor Frank J. Mitchell of Windsor, that any tourist who becomes intoxicated will be sternly dealt with.

18 FACE INQUIRY OVER SLAYING OF JOSEPH LARSON

Pretty Woman Employer to Be Questioned.

Eighteen persons, among them a pretty north side woman, were taken into custody yesterday for questioning in connection with the murder of Joseph Larson, beer peddler and gangster, whose bullet-riddled body was found in an alley in the rear of 511 North Halsted street Tuesday night. Most of those arrested were friends of the slain gangster who police thought may throw some light on the mystery.

The woman, Marie Berlin, 35 years old, and her husband, A. P. Berlin, of the Commonwealth hotel were arrested by Lieut. John L. Sullivan and his squad of the detective bureau. Mrs. Berlin told the lieutenant she had known Larson for two years. Recently she had appointed him as her chauffeur and he took her for daily rides in their sedan.

Accused of Alcohol Theft.
Three weeks ago, Mrs. Berlin said, Larson told her that some Italians in the vicinity of Grand avenue and Halsted street had accused him of stealing seven-five five-gallon cans of alcohol. He denied the theft to her.

Two days later he walked into a cigar store in that vicinity, where several of his accusers were lounging. They lured him into a basement, beat him, then warned him that if the alcohol or its value in cash was not returned they would deal with him in the quiet ways of the underworld. Larson, arrested several times in connection with gangland killings, had severed his connections with all gangs and recently played a lone hand buying and selling alcohol.

Police set out last night to question cigar store proprietors in the vicinity of Grand and Halsted, and also a man known as "Pete," who was said to have owned the stolen alcohol.

Check Berlin's Movements.
Police are also checking the movements of Berlin on the night of the murder. He is known to them as a gambler. It was also learned that Larson recently moved to the Commonwealth hotel and obtained a suite of rooms on the floor below Berlin's. A checkup at the hotel and among friends of the Berlins is being made, on the theory that Johnny may have played a part in the murder of the gangster.

The inquest will be held today in Hago Brothers undertaking rooms, 624 North Western avenue.

BRYAN ABSENT, DEMOCRATS CALL OFF THEIR FEAST

Washington, D. C., April 8.—(Special.)—Word was received from William Jennings Bryan and Franklin D. Roosevelt that neither would be able to speak at a Jefferson day banquet which was to have been held here next Monday night.

As a result the dinner was abandoned. Mr. Bryan wired that he was dated up for speaking engagements in Miami until May 1; Mr. Roosevelt wrote that he expected to spend the month of April at Warm Springs, Ga., so that at the end of that time he could "throw away" his crutches.

Without these national figures or others to take their places, the National League of Progressive Democrats decided that a dinner would not be worth while.

FRENCH SENATE JOLTS HERRIOT, BUT HE RIDES ON an increase in the limit of the circulation and its advance to the state would be rushed through parliament before its next session appeared tomorrow.

M. de Monzie informed the correspondents that the government and bank were in perfect agreement, adding: "Otherwise, the bank is free to say to the contrary, as the bank is a free establishment in a free state."

M. de Monzie's financial measures have reached the meeting point. Deputy Violette, who is reported to the finance committee of the chambers has been charged by it to draft a report on the De Monzie bill, introducing the various modifications suggested during the committee's sittings. The deputy has conferred with M. de Monzie and M. Blum with regard to this amended text, but nothing is known for certain as to what form the proposed changes have taken.

The finance minister has said that he considers three points of his bill as essential: First, the principle of a loan; second, the rate of interest on the loan, and, third, the estimated amount of individual fortunes. Report has it that M. Violette's views coincide with the Socialists rather than with De Monzie. That party wants a 10 per cent capital levy, without the money becoming a 3 per cent loan.

to grant the increase to 45,000,000,000, but the national bloc and reactionary members are concentrating on fighting the "forced voluntary contributions" by which it is aimed to collect 10 per cent of the national wealth.

Expected to Raise $750,000,000.

M. de Monzie stated today that he hopes to raise 15,000,000,000 francs ($750,000,000) during five years, which is only about 3 per cent of the nation's wealth, while an additional 1,000,000,000 francs ($50,000,000) would be produced annually because reduction of the floating debt would cut down interest and carrying charges.

It is rumored that the committee will continue wrangling until Saturday when Easter adjournment will be taken, and the project will not come up before the chamber for a vote until the middle of next week.

In the meanwhile the franc is being held steady on the exchange market through the purchase of francs by the French government with Morgan loan funds. It is reported.

"YOUTH MOVE" MEETINGS ON AT U. OF M. TONIGHT

Presbyterian Students to Talk Many Things.

A new demonstration of what has been termed the youth movement will begin this evening at Ann Arbor, Mich., when students of both sexes representing the various Presbyterian colleges of the country will meet for a three days' convention at the state university. The program will have to do with the attitude of the present generation towards war, industry, international relations, internationalism and modernism versus fundamentalism in doctrine and specifically as to the program of the Presbyterian denomination.

The Rev. M. Willard Lampe of Chicago, who will be one of the speakers at this evening and who will explain the purpose of the convention, said yesterday before leaving for Ann Arbor: "This will be a convention in which the students will have a free hand. They will meet in groups to discuss various questions which are agitating the church and society and on the closing day will present their findings."

Seek Unrestrained Discussion.

"We elders do not want to dominate. We do not expect the extreme officials will be in the majority, but we want those present to be sincere and fearless and to say just what they think and desire for the church. We want them to point out the ways in which they think the church can be improved and the ways in which they cooperate. It is something new to the church when the officials of the church are willing to sit at the feet of college and theological students and hear their views without attempting to dictate what they shall be."

Bernard E. Meland, a student at McCormick theological seminary, will be chairman and presiding officer at the convention. Miss Katherine Stewart and Miss Porter of the University of Chicago are two of the delegates who will attend.

10,000 to Be Represented.
There are 10,000 students, it is said, in the higher institutions under the patronage of the Presbyterian church, who will be represented by delegates sent by the colleges or going at their own expense.

JOHN JENKINS SPEAKS TODAY.
John Jencks, landscape architect, will speak before the City club this noon. He will discuss the proposed parkway along the drainage road north to Winnetka.

DAY OF STRIKES ON WANE, DAVIS TELLS WORKERS

Visions Approach of Co-operation Era.

Pittsburgh, Pa., April 2.—The day when employer and employee will think it just as senseless to fight in a strike or lock-out, as it would be for a board of directors to transact business by peeling off their coats and going at each other in a battle royal, was predicted tonight by Secretary of Labor James J. Davis.

Addressing the forty-seventh annual convention of the Amalgamated Steel, Iron and Tin Workers, the secretary declared that the old order of hostile employer and resentful union has passed, and that a new order, one of co-operation, has definitely taken its place.

Began a Laborer 40 Years Ago.
Secretary Davis recalled that he began work as a laborer in the steel industry forty years ago, and that he has been a member of the association for thirty-five years.

The fear has been expressed by employers in the iron and steel industry, he said, that organization of labor in their mills will bring about jurisdictional disputes, where a man engaged in one line of work, because of union rules, will not do incidental jobs of another nature even for an hour or less.

Urges More Give and Take.

The employers see an injustice in having to pay for a full day's work, he said, when the actual job takes only an hour, and he expressed the opinion that many unions should ease up on such strict rules, and match the give and take spirit of employers.

Foresee Move to Square Mexico with Britain

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)
MEXICO CITY, April 2.—It is stated semi-officially today that while Bertram E. Holloway, general manager of the Mexican National Railways, has been appointed by President Calles as special Mexican delegate to the international congress of railroad men in London in June and has no other mission, the authorities believe he may attempt to bring a resumption of diplomatic relations between Mexico and Great Britain. Mr. Holloway has always been a booster for British recognition of Mexico.

GIANT SARATOGA GIVES MITCHELL GIGANTIC LAUGH

Could Sink It with a Tiny Plane, He Asserts.

Washington, D. C., April 2.—[Special.]—"I could sink the Saratoga with a pursuit plane; I wouldn't even need a bomber."

This was the answer given by Brig. Gen. William Mitchell, assistant chief of the army air service, when asked today what he thought of the giant, new aircraft carrier just launched yesterday in the presence of high naval officials at Camden, N. J.

When completed it will be the largest ship ever built in the United States. It will cost $45,000,000.

"As a part of the national defense, it is not even worth considering," Mitchell declared. "By this fall the building of aircraft carriers of that kind will be stopped. It is useless to build a carrier for airplanes that can be sunk so easily."

"The same thing goes for all battleships. Look at the great fleet now at anchor on the Pacific coast, waiting to participate in the Hawaiian exercises. They could be sunk to a ship within a few hours by a single squadron of bombers. Holding maneuvers with battleships made obsolete by the airplane is civil war stuff. It's ridiculous."

Although Gen. Mitchell will be transferred from his present position April 26 and ordered to San Antonio, Tex., where he will be air officer of the 8th army corps, his air activities will not be his principal job this summer.

His big job, he said today, will be to convince the American public that the army and navy system in this country is all wrong and that the air service must be built up.

HELD IN $15,000 ROBBERY.

Chicago's real pioneers, some of them born in this city as far back as 1834, were guests of honor at a reception yesterday afternoon in commemoration of the seventeenth anniversary of the banking house of Greenebaum. The party was held at the Greenebaum Sons Bank and Trust company quarters, 14 S. La Salle and Madison streets, and several thousand customers and friends attended, in addition to the pioneer Chicagoans.

George A. Satterlee, born on the south bank of the Chicago river, opposite Fort Dearborn, in 1846, swapped tales with George Leady, oldest living pensioner of the fire department, born the same year at Harrison and State streets. Gustave Schmidt, 53 years old, came to tell that when he stepped into the Greenebaum bank in 1871, just after the big fire, it was the first bank he had ever been in.

Henry Moore, another who first saw life in Chicago in 1846, told how he attended every session of the Republican national convention which nominated Abraham Lincoln for President in the Wigwam and sold palm leaf fans at 15 cents each to the perspiring delegates.

Others who called and the years of their birth are: C. H. Barnes, 1836; Robert Boyd, 1849; E. A. Larson, 1846;

Erastus D. Doty, 1837; Frank W. Harvey, 1837; David O'Leary, 1832, and Timothy H. Bodria, 1870.

Receiving were the three sons of Elias Greenebaum, who founded the bank in 1855. They are: M. E. Greenebaum, president, and H. E. and James E. Greenebaum, vice presidents. Flowers and souvenirs were given to visitors and a buffet luncheon was served.

Four Robbers Loot Store of Furs Worth $25,000

Furs worth $25,000 were obtained by four robbers who raided the store of Nathan Teltelbaum, 3711 West Roosevelt road, late yesterday. Three clerks and a porter were guarded while the robbers carried racks of furs into a waiting automobile.

RICHARDS SAYS PLAYER-WRITER RULE BANS HIM

New York, April 8.—Vincent Richards, Olympic tennis champion and second in ranking in the United States, today said in his opinion the player-writer rule automatically bars him from national and international tournaments this summer.

Richards, who is under contract to a news syndicate for tennis stories, said he had made no plans for the season at hand.

Can't Report Own Play.

Under the rule, as interpreted recently by a committee elected by the United States Lawn Tennis association, a player may write for publication if he does not use his title over his articles, but he cannot cover a tournament in which he participates.

The second part of the edict is the one which affects Richards, in that he must choose between writing the major tournament, including the Davis cup and national championships, and participating in them.

Stated for Davis Cup Team.

There is little doubt he will be selected again as a member of the Davis cup team.

William T. Tilden II, national singles champion, who also writes for the newspapers, was a member of the committee which interpreted the rule for the U. S. L. T. A.

GREENLEAF'S CHANCES TO RETAIN TITLE GROW SLENDER AS HE LOSES

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., April 8.—Ralph Greenleaf, in the presence of Frank Taberski and Arthur Woods, contestants in the National Pocket Billiard league, saw his slender chance to retain his crown whittled down here this afternoon when he lost the first tilt of a six game series to Pasquale Natale of Baltimore by a 100 to 94 score.

However, in the evening Greenleaf turned the tables and emerged triumphant with the final statistics, 100 to 87. The afternoon tilt ran thirty-three innings before the Baltimore player was assured of victory. Greenleaf had a fair lead until Natale ran 46 in the eleventh inning, which gave him the lead, and he held it to the finish.

Greenleaf's best run was 25 in the evening tilt. He won in twenty-five innings, Natale making a run of 33, while Greenleaf's best was 17, but he played better billiards throughout.

DEVONSHIRE COURSE TO OPEN SATURDAY

BY MORROW KRUM.

So numerous have been inquiries regarding the Devonshire Country club, a public course on Church street, west of Evanston, that an inspection of the links was made yesterday.

There was some play last year on Devonshire. That may be the reason so many men, who prefer to pay as they play instead of joining expensive clubs, have telephoned and written to ask when the course will be open.

Their friendship was won last year, perhaps.

Has Exciting Hazards.

The official opening for pre-summer golf will be made Saturday, but the sharpshooters were knocking balls around yesterday. Jimmie Fee, one time Cook county champion and now pro at Devonshire, walked over the course with me and we saw many cold but satisfied box tourists.

The greens are large. (Temporary greens are in use now.) The fairways are bulky and the hazards are exciting. The course is long—4,480 yards. There are six par 5 holes. Great golf out there. It's one of the best of the public courses.

Club Dinner Tonight.

The meadow runners were busy at Evanston Country club yesterday. There were more than a score of motors parked beside the clubhouse and about three score golfers were enjoying the mysterious little balls.

The Chicago District Golf association year's championship shoot will start there on July 20. Good place for a beautiful course. The annual get-together dinner, a stag affair, will be held at the clubhouse tonight, and there'll be great fun, according to John A. Wheeler, secretary of the club.

The new Oak Shore Beach golf club will be dedicated on April 19 to a tournament of the best shooters of the Illinois Junior Golf association, according to an announcement by Samuel Gilbert, president of the organization.

A friend of his reports that G. O. Blasing of Elgin made a 73 at Harrier yesterday.

The first tournament this year under the auspices of the United States Golf association will be the men's national section event, to be held on May 30. The contest is open to everybody or anybody who has a regular club handicap. The round will be eighteen holes, match play against par, with even-parity of the contestants' handicap applied. The best score up, on or down to par, wins. Fencers competing will pay an entry fee of $1, three-quarters of which will go toward the $100,000 green section fund and the other quarter to be retained by the individual club to provide for prizes. The U. S. G. A. will award a trophy to the national winner.

Officials of Hickory Hill golf club announced last night they have set aside Monday as ladies' day. The women may play on that day.

WOODS AND WATERS

NOTES BY THE WAY.

THE way nature has distributed some members of the sunfish family in America is an interesting subject for the fisherman who has a fair for digging into the question of environment and food of fishes. For example, take a look at these three, the warmouth bass, the rock bass, and the green sunfish, all of which are members of the sunfish family.

Here are three fishes all with large mouths and all feeding almost wholly on insects and small fishes. Notwithstanding this similarity of food, nature has seen to it that each has learned to inhabit the same area without serious competition to the others. All three get enough food because each one of the trio stays in his own hunting ground.

For example the warmouth, a heavy, wide-mouthed, red-eyed sunfish with much the same appearance of a rock bass, is essentially a species of lake and pond. He likes a mud-bottomed pond or lake. The warmouth's food is just about the same as that of the rock bass, but they don't compete on the chow line. The latter shows a decided preference for clear, rocky streams or lakes and if he can choose his home the rock bass won't be living in water where the warmouth is trying to get ahead. The green sunfish doesn't compete with either of the others as he likes small creeks.

THE I. A. C. swimming and water polo teams, in charge of instructor William Bachrach, leave tonight for San Francisco to compete in the National A. A. U. outdoor swimming championships to be held April 23 to 26, inclusive.

Johnny Weissmuller, the world's greatest swimmer, will make the trip and it will be his first competition since January, when he was taken sick. He will swim in the 50 and 100 yard events, and relay. He may compete in the furthest if strong enough.

The I. A. C. is the present champion in swimming and water polo. The polo team is not as strong as in previous years, owing to the fact Harry Heber cannot get away from business to make the trip, and Buddy Wallen, another strong player, is in Europe. Perry McGilivray, one of the mainstays of the team for years, will be in the party. The events will be held in a pool 1,000 feet long and 150 feet wide.

INTERNATIONAL spice was added to the annual Indianapolis speed classic yesterday with announcement that three new French racing creations have been entered for the $100,000 competition May 30.

The cars are designed, built, and entered by Albert Guyn, the famous French pilot, who will captain the Tri-color team and tool one of the cars. His two other pilots will be chosen from the younger generation of French speed merchants.

Another spectacular motor highway has been added to tourist interest in the Colorado Rockies with the completion of the new Broadmoor-Cheyenne mountain highway, which winds from Colorado Springs to the top of Cheyenne mountain, an elevation of 10,000 feet. The road will be opened in June. It has a maximum width of 20 feet and a maximum grade of 10 per cent.

The popular tour from Chicago around Lake Michigan can now be made with little difficulty, according to the highway department of the Chicago Motor club. There are only two detours between Chicago and St. Ignace. One is the Cook and Lake county line and the other on Wisconsin highway 15, just north of Fond du Lac. The railroad ferry will be available at the straits until state steamers begin to operate. Three detours on Michigan highway 11—the West Michigan pile-up—were reported in good condition.

FARM and GARDEN

BEST OF 100 FLOWERS IN TRIAL.

LOWER growers who live in the latitude of Iowa should try out some of the flowers that stood the test in the Iowa station's extensive trials of more than 100 varieties of annuals. E. C. Vols, floriculturist, recommends these varieties for his state, and they should do well in climates and soils similar to Iowa:

Climbing plants—Cup and saucer, wild cucumber, common and Japanese morning glories, cypress and scarlet runner bean.

Trailing plants for window boxes or hanging baskets—Thunbergia or blue eyed Susan, dwarf annuals, 10 to 18 inches high, for edging, low beds and borders—Ageratum, nemophila or baby blue eye, Swan river daisy, calceola, Chinese or annual pink.

Dwarf nasturtium, love in a mist, pansy, dwarf petunia, annual phlox, Port Ullast, lavatera, sweet alyssum (little gem variety), verbena, French marigold, and California poppy.

Annual, medium height, 18 to 24 inches—Snapdragon, arctic or white Africa daisy, erythraea, cleome or annual baby's breath, balsam, annual, gaillardia, centaurea, cranes or cornflower, collinsia or annual coronilla, cosmos, summer cypress or burning bush, euphorbia marginata or snow on the mountain, euphorbia heterophylla or annual poinsettia, four o'clock, amaranthus or princess feather, morning glory, scarlet flowering tobacco, poppies, salvia or scarlet sage, African marigold, Chinese wool flower and annis.

Tall annuals, 3 to 6 feet—Castor bean, cleome or spider plant, cosmos, datura or horn of plenty, annual hollyhock, annual sunflower, and cucumber leaved sunflower.

CHAMP DEFEATED IN GOLF MEET

Pinehurst, N. C., April 8.—[Special.]—A new north and south champion will be crowned soon. Fred W. Knight of Philadelphia, the present title holder, was defeated today by Parker W. Whittemore of Boston in a most thrilling match. It took Whittemore, who won the medal of the championship yesterday, nineteen holes to turn the trick. Other feature matches of the first round of the championship flight were the meeting of A. M. Hoxie of Boston and H. C. Fowles II of Pittsburgh, the latter losing on the nineteenth green.

PREPS TO PLAY FOR GOLF TITLE

Golf and tennis will be introduced in the Catholic high school league this season. The B. F. Zimmer golf trophy will be the objective besides the championship, and although it was only decided to include the sport in the league's program this week, De La Salle, Loyola, St. Rita, St. Mel, Mount Carmel, De Paul and St. Philip signified they will enter teams. The same schools, with the addition of St. Patrick and St. Ignace, already are laying plans for the tennis campaign. The President Agnew trophy will become the permanent possession of the school that wins the championship three times.

RICKARD SEES DULL OUTDOOR BOXING SEASON

New York, April 8.—(Special.)—Another season of slim business for summer boxing is in prospect, according to Tex Rickard, who has two of the biggest plants in the metropolitropolitan district. "I have been unable to make one good match, and I don't see any in sight," Rickard said today. "You can make any number of cards that would be good enough for the Yankee stadium or the Jersey City arena, but naming them and making them are two different things."

Thinks Dempsey Through.
"Heavyweight matches, of course, are the most attractive to the public and they can't be made. It begins to look as if Dempsey is through.
I don't want to fight any of the top weights. The Gibbons-Tunney match, which has been made by Jimmy D.
Tunney, is a good match and is one of the few available."

"Matches between the lighter boxers are almost impossible to make because they want the same pay the heavyweights get. I have been trying to make a match between Johnny Dunce and Edouard Mascart, but Dunce wants $50,000 and Mascart thinks he is worth almost as much as Carpenter."

Thinks He'll Lay Off.
"Some boxers think they have progressed in their hands, but I do not depend upon boxing. I can do other things and make money and the boxers are hurting themselves. The outdoor season was a bust last year, and the boxers were found holding the bag this winter came."

Rickard believes the reinstatement of Mike McGuire, Mickey Walker and Dundee by the New York commission will help the situation because it will be possible at least three good matches if the boxers are reasonable.
McGuire could meet the winner of the Tunney-Gibbons fight later and get a good purse. Walker has two matches left, and Dundee could fight Ed Kaplan if he would be willing to take a fair percentage, Rickard said.

BOXER, 16, DIES OF SKULL FRACTURE
AFTER KNOCKOUT

Toledo, O., April 8.—Harold Ryle, 16, Toledo featherweight boxer, who was knocked out in the tenth round of a bout by Guy Williams here last Friday, died at St. Vincent's hospital today. An operation was performed earlier in the day to remove a blood clot on the boxer's brain in an effort to save his life. Ryle failed to respond and died. Ryle's death was due to a fractured skull.

FRENCH MUM ON REINSTATEMENT
OF DUNDEE IN N. Y.

PARIS, April 8.—(By Associated Press.)—No official comment is forthcoming from the French boxing federation regarding the reinstatement of Johnny Dundee by the New York state athletic commission, but individual members express the opinion that the French federation should have been consulted before action was taken. Others believe the former featherweight champion of the world has been punished sufficiently.

BOARD SUSPENDS
ACE HUDKINS

Lincoln, Neb., April 8.—Ace Hud-kins, former Lincoln lightweight, who was a referee's decision over Joe Benson of Vernon, Cal., last night, has been indefinitely suspended by the Nebraska boxing commission. It was announced here today. The action was taken by the commission because of Hudkins' alleged "acts detrimental to the best interests of boxing."

Col. Nickalls, Famed in British Polo, Kills Self

London, April 8.—(Special.)—Col. Cecil Nickalls, famous polo player, who played for the American team at Hurlingham in 1900, committed suicide last night at his home near Rugby. After his wife heard a shot and found him dead with his revolver beside him. He had been in bad health.
Nickalls was manager of the Rugby club.

DATE FOR ROSENBERG
AURORA GO CHANGED

BY WALTER ECKERSALL.
Phil Rosenberg, the world's bantamweight champion, will meet either Bud Taylor of Terre Haute or Harold Smith of Chicago in the first open air show at Aurora on May 12 instead of May 23, as previously announced.

The change of date was made on the request of Rosenberg, who may defend his title in New York the latter part of May. Promoters Mullen and Sager willingly agreed to the change, which will give fans an earlier opportunity to see the 118 pound champion.

Rosenberg will come to Aurora on a percentage basis and has agreed to appear at East Chicago in June on the same terms. If he meets Smith at Aurora on May 12, then Taylor will be the champion's opponent in East Chicago, or vice versa. Taylor and Smith are unquestionably the two best bantamweights in the middle west, and natural opponents for the champion.

Joe Samson, the clever Milwaukee 122 pounder, who trades punches with Peter Pariente at the arena city on Monday night, continues to put in strenuous sessions at the Mullen gymnasium. Joe must make a round of it after yesterday's workout. Rocky Graham of New York, who meets Eddie Anderson of Milwaukee in the main event, will be in Chicago today to train at the Mullen gymnasium.

The boxer who won a twelve round decision over Harold Smith in New York recently, Joe Anzella and Jimmy Burns, two Milwaukee 132 pounders, will meet in a six round preliminary, while a four round opponent will be in Chicago today to train at the Mullen gymnasium.

Dan Caplin, manager of Sid Torres, New York lightweight, yesterday notified Pre-moter Jim Mullen he would accept a match with Mike McGuire at the arena city on May 12. Mullen can get Mandell to star.
Eddie Kane, manager of Mandell, will be back from Paris today and something definite regarding this match may be known tonight.
Kane is on his way back from St. Paul by automobile and stopped off in Janesville, Wis., yesterday to try and close a match between Mandell and Joe Anzella for April 20.

Bud Taylor, matched to meet Midget Smith of New York, at East Chicago on April 20, will be in Chicago Saturday to finish preparation at a local gym. Smith will be in Chicago on Monday, according to Matchmaker Eddie Long.

Polo Grounds A. C. tomorrow. Hun-bert J. Fitzgibbon, promoter of the match,

BASEBALL CHATTER.
Permanent incapacitation of Babe Ruth would be a serious loss to the spectacular in baseball. No other player ever has received so much publicity, and no other player ever has drawn so many people through the gates.

Ruth has been a consistent performer. That is the reason for his popularity and his drawing power. He has not made a home run every time important to do so by expectant fans, but he has poled circuit clouts with greater regularity than any other celebrity in diamond history. He garnered forty-six last year, and of players who appeared in more than 100 games led the league in swatting with an average of .378.

Ruth's fainting spell probably was due to the flu. He made quite a fight this spring to take off surplus pounds. Surplus pounds are an enemy to ball players, especially those with ankles small in comparison to the rest of the body.
Attempted reducing may have weakened Babe. His disability probably is only temporary. We hope so.

Marionville, we are told, is progressing well and is likely to be on the field as a regular earlier than expected after a broken ankle, because he is light on his feet. We've never seen a "Rabbit" which was not light on its feet. Marionville's presence will mean much to Kil-ler's Cubs.

In less than a week we'll be forming opinions for ourselves instead of merely reading estimates of strength of the various pennant contenders.

THE Rollin fills a niche in the motor-world that is open to no other car on the market. Its greatest appeal is to those who want the luxury, the prestige, the mechanical superiorities of the big, costly cars in a smaller car.

It is a fact that no car, regardless of price, uses finer materials than the Rollin. It has everything that people of taste require in a motor-car: Beautiful bodies, finished in Duco in many color combinations; a powerful, sweet-running motor of European type, designed by Rollin H. White; a short-turning radius; traffic-ability unmatched on the road.

SEEK PRELIMS FOR TALABER-MEYERS GO

Having clinched the world's middleweight championship wrestling match between Lou Talaber, the titleholder, and Challenger Johnny Meyers for the Broadway armory, April 15, officers of the 2024 Coast Artillery are seeking leading grapplers for the supporting bouts.

Heine Engel of Dubuque, who nearly won the title from Talaber in the same armory a short time ago, has been signed as one of the principals in the semi-windup. Col. Kraft and Capt.
Feshmahan, the athletic officer, are trying to find a suitable opponent for him. Two other bouts, yet to be arranged, will complete the card.

Talaber and Meyers have settled down to active training. Talaber is working at the Mullen gymnasium and Meyers at the Arcade.
If Leone Labriola, the Italian heavyweight, defeats Joe (Toots) Mondt at the Star and Garter tomorrow night he will be proclaimed the Italian heavyweight champion by his countrydecisively defeated Mike Romano, who has claimed the racial title, in a one fall match at the Coliseum recently, and a defeat of Mondt by the new Italian heavyweight will entitle him to the championship.

BLACK GOLD LAMED
IN GALLOP AT DOWNS;
MAY NEVER RUN AGAIN

LOUISVILLE, Ky., April 8.—
[Special.]—Black Gold, winner of last year's Derby, came out of a half mile breeze this morning very lame, and it is doubtful if he will get to the post for a long time, if ever again.
Trainer Hanley Webb said it appeared to him as though the colt poked up a stone or a nail, as the wall of his left forefoot was separated.

"I do not know how serious
my horse's ailment may be," said Webb, "but I do know it is a hard blow to me right now, as I had him ready to go on training for the many rich stakes in which he is entered. Something apparently was hurting him when he went on the track as he did not want to gallop, even though he was only sent as a two minute clip."

seen on a race course, heads the list of horses Kay Spence made reservations for yesterday for the coming Chicago season. The other horses registered are:

Superstrak, Danversville, Silver Slipper,
Automatic, New Girl, Foo, Phalaris, Lancer, Barlight, Princess, Unholy, Lord Maise, Fur-star, Dursidale, Shotwell, and Blue Sprite.

An application was also received from J. J. Finnigan for four horses, Take A Chance, Bessie, Bibby and Goldie Girl.

who arrived in the city from St. Louis

Michigan City, Ind., April 8.—[Special.]—Wayne Munn and Gabe Kaufmann, his manager, accompanied by their wives, visited the Sky Blue arena here today with Floyd Fitzsimmons, Michigan City promoter.

Wrestler and manager were impressed with the arena seating capacity, entrance, stage, and roads leading into city, which include loading platforms of Michigan Central, Lake Erie and Western and boat transportation lines.

Kaufmann admitted that he had been grossly misinformed about the arena by other promoters.

After the visit here the party drove to St. Joe, where they were guests at the Rotary club meeting, and later drove to Kalamazoo, where Munn and Kaufmann and their wives took a train for Philadelphia, where Munn wrestles

COTNER WORKS
FASTEST DERBY
PREP OF YEAR

Louisville, Ky., April 8.—[Special.]
—Paced by Bourbon Boy, who broke about a length in front of him, Lee O. Cotner, one of the favorites for the Kentucky Derby, worked a mile in 1:14.4 at Churchill Downs this morning. He finished running strongly and under restraint. It was the fastest Derby trial of the year here. He was timed the first quarter in 24.5, half in 49.5, and three-quarters in 1:15.5.

Leo O. Cotner's gallop was made over an oval deep in dust and, to add to this, his rider, Jockey Bill Frank, was unable to rate him as well as he might, because of losing a stirrup after going four furlongs. Those who watched his work today believe he is going to be a hard colt to beat in the Derby.

Elmer Flasher Speed.
Elmer, who will wear the silks of W. H. Whitehouse in the Derby, turned in his best trial since coming from New Orleans, when he encircled the Downs course in 1:15.1.

Mark Master, from the International stable of Chicago, showed it splendid effort when he galloped a mile in 1:15.5, at Douglas park. This track was even deeper than the Downs. The son of Luke McLuke, 11 mils registered the quarter in 24.4, the half mile in 49.4, and three-quarters in 1:17.5.

Brave Bob Goes Six Furlongs.
Brave Bob, C. M. Ferris' Derby hope, and which finished third in the Louisiana Derby, reeled off a clever six furlongs in 1:17.5 at the Downs, while Russell Cave, owned by D. Bergman, local sportsman, performed impres-sively when he ran seven-eighths in 1:31.5.

Mrs. W. G. Hibbard In for Busy Session with Voters' League

BY NANCY R.

Mrs. William Gold Hibbard, chairman of one of the loveliest country places heretofore, her domain being a wide, garden estate on West Willow road in Winnetka, is about to start off for a busy ten days in Richmond, Va. She is one of the most active of Chicago's women-who-do-things, and her job as fourth regional director of the League of Women Voters keeps her always on the go. The league is to hold its annual convention next week in Richmond, but Mrs. Hibbard says she has to go before then. Tuesday's special train leaves, as she has a series of board meetings to attend before the convention opens. So she'll be off day after tomorrow.

However, the life of even a fourth regional director isn't all work and no play, though there are moments when it would seem so. For after the convention—a six day affair—Mrs. Hibbard is counting on a week-end in the company of the Byrd place, one of the country estates of Mr. Crane, the son of the late John D. Rockefeller, and his wife, Mrs. Crane, who is a native of Virginia. Mrs. Crane, the daughter of Charles R. Crane, former minister to China, has also been a diplomatic service, having served as American minister to Czechoslovakia. His wife, the former Ellen D. Bruce, comes of a distinguished Virginia family, famed for the warmth of her hospitality. Mrs. Hibbard is looking forward to a few days with her skilled and interesting hosts.

I wonder what interesting summer plans will come of Mrs. Hibbard's spring travels. Last year, on her way home from the league convention in Buffalo, she had a long conversation with a certain famed New York politician, who talked at length about the importance of leisure, and told her, Mrs. Hibbard had accomplished the first—a most becoming fashion for her, by the bye—agreed with the second and was en route for the third. She claims the power of suggestion was responsible for the whole thing.

The rest of Chicago's eggplant going to the convention includes: Mrs. James W. Morrison, president of the Illinois League of Women Voters; Mrs. Jacob Baur, Mrs. Clair E. Moore, Mrs. Kenneth Rich, Mrs. Edward McCready, Mrs. Mabel Belmont, Mrs. Bruce Scott, Mrs. Edward L. McCulloch, Mrs. Catharine Waugh McCulloch, Mrs. William D. Laird, Mrs. Paul Rittenhouse and Miss Sophie Beckwith.

Day's News in Society

The Chicago Historical society will observe the 50th anniversary of Appomattox day this evening. Veterans of three wars are to be present and battle flags of five wars will line the walls of the society's hall. The program will include speeches on "The Significance of Appomattox Day," by Dr. James Allen James, professor of history at Northwestern university; "An Officer at the Close of the Great Conflict," by Gen. James T. Stewart, commander of the 1st Cavalry; "A Soldier at the Close of the Great Conflict," by Dr. William J. Libberton, D. D., past department commander of the State of Illinois G. A. R.; "Our Heritage," by Joseph M. James, division commander of the Sons of Veterans, and a commemorative address by Dr. Preston Taylor on "The Romance of History."

Mrs. Paul Blatchford of the Oak Park will give a luncheon at the Cordon Torrey of the Cordon Torrey of the American university of Beirut, Syria. The Poetry Lovers of America announce a dinner at the Art Institute clubroom at 4:30 o'clock tomorrow evening. The program will be composed of prize winning poems, to be read by their respective authors. Mrs. Vibe N. Spier will preside and will give a short talk explaining methods of selecting winning poems.

Buses and blocks of seats for the Charlotte Cushman benefit, "Midnight Prayers," to be presented at Cohan's Grand theatre next Monday evening will be on display at the Chicago Historical society, held last year, at a meeting of the women's board of the society and the officers and executive board of the Girls' Week Federation, to take place on Wednesday evening, April 22, at the Chicago Historical society auditorium. Miss Frances Holbrook, who was chairman of Chicago's first Girls' week, will present the book. The women's board includes Mrs. George A. Carpenter, Mrs. William Barry, Mrs. Samuel Insull, Mrs. Frank O. Lowrie, Mrs. Caroline McIlvaine, and Mrs. Mose J. Wentworth.

MEN'S FASHIONS

BY A. T. GALLICO.

Serves Two Purposes.
NEW YORK.—[Special Correspondence.]—The combination boys have been at it again and, as usual, have given us something rather attractive, as is generally the case when the manufacturers of things for men to wear turn out something that serves two purposes.

In this case it is a pajama that is in the first place out more like a garment than a bag of meal, and in the second combines the ease of a lounging garment and the smartness desirable with such a thing with the comfort of a sleeping outfit.

One of these features is a shawl collar, which is worn turned down and open while lounging about one's room or working a bit before turning in, and in this form the suit greatly resembles the English blazers, which may some day be adopted here as the popular sport wear.

WHEAT FUTURES SOLD FREELY ON REPORTS OF RAIN

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

May wheat acted tight the greater part of the day and at one time was around 14c over the July, compared with 11½c over at the close on Tuesday, and closed around 11½c over. The May delivery was affected by reports of a good cash demand, with $5,000 bu sold here to exporters, while the new crop deliveries were sold on the private reports showing heavy rains over the greater part of Kansas, Oklahoma, Missouri, and parts of Nebraska, and averaged lower. At the close May was unchanged and distant futures 1½c lower. Corn closed ½c higher. Oats declined ¼c and rye ¼c.

Strength in Liverpool wheat which was 3d higher, with Buenos Aires to higher on local sentiment early. Offerings of May were not large until the price was up to around $1.55. At that figure and over commission houses seemed to have considerable to sell and toward the last there was a quick decline, weakness in Winnipeg being a factor.

Minneapolis May Weakens.

The Minneapolis-Chicago spread which was 6½c recently widened out to around 7c at one time during the day, and the basis was at 6½c difference, while the shipping basis between the two markets is only 7.50c bu. This widening of the spread was taken by some operators as indicating that Chicago had gone up too fast and had some effect on values. Highly beneficial rains were reported over the greater part of the southwest while there was some moisture in parts of the northwest. With drought effectively broken in Kansas and Oklahoma there was a decided disposition to sell the July, and a marked change in sentiment was noted among commission houses and the local element, the belief being that a reaction was overdue, especially as May had advanced 1½c from the low of last Friday. Late in the day Kansas City reported the cash demand there had flattened out. Export demand at the seaboard was fair with sales of 500,000 bu in all positions, largely in scattered lots.

Corn Easier with Wheat.

Easier tone in corn was due largely to sympathy with wheat and while all the deliveries sold at a new high on the present movement early the close was on a good reaction from the top. Demand for cash grain held up fairly well, considering the advance of late, and sales of 211,000 bu were reported, while the spot basis was 10½c better as compared with May. About 65 cars of the 122 cars received here during the day were from the southwest.

Oats held within a range of 1½c and closed about the bottom after a light trade. Domestic shipping sales here were 125,000 bu and at Minneapolis 200,000 bu. Rains in the west were beneficial for the newly needed crop.

Rye was firmer early with reports of a good export demand but the market eased later with wheat. Export sales were estimated at 200,000 bu at the seaboard.

Provisions Close Lower.

Selling of lard by a house with New York export connections made a lower range, and the close was at net losses of 10½c on lard, and 2½c on ribs, while bellies were unchanged. Trade was light. Packing of hogs in the west for the season to date, as compiled by the Price Current-Grain Reporter, was 2,725,000 against 4,025,000 last year. Prices follow:
